SPLIT OF FACTIONS

Leaders of A. F. of L. in Miami Declare Green Can Have Other Card If Expelled by Miners.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Organized labor's family quarrel was intensified today when the executive board of the United Mine Workers ordered William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, to stand trial before it next Wednesday.

Green, who rose to power from the mine workers' ranks and still is a member of their union, was accused by the board with plotting the miners' recent suspension from the federation.

Replying immediately in an open letter to John L. Lewis, president of the mine workers, the federation president denied the accusations "directly and categorically."

He said the federation's convention next week at Tampa, Fla., would make it impossible for him to appear before the board. To reporters he made plain, however, that he considered his letter complied with the request, which asked a written statement if he could not appear personally.

The mine workers and nine other unions were suspended for participating in the Committee for Industrial Organization, which favors unionization of mass production workers by industry instead of by craft. Craft unionists dominate the federation council.

The summons served upon Green today was regarded by many labor leaders as a preliminary to expelling him from the mine workers' union.

Re-election Assured.
Although the federation constitution requires that its officers must be members of unions in good standing, federation leaders gathering for their con-

Ralph Owens' Arrest
Ordered by Sheriff

Orders for the arrest of Ralph Owens under a 12-month sentence in superior court for assault and battery, had been issued yesterday by the sheriff's office but Owens had not been turned in by his bondsmen late last night.

Jailers at Fulton tower said they had notified Owens' bondsmen of the arrest order. No word had been heard as to his whereabouts, they reported. His bond in this case was for $1,000 and a professional bond company was listed as the maker. Representatives of the company said, however, that a private individual whose name they did not reveal, was on Owens' bond. His sentence for assault and battery on C. J. Christian was upheld recently by the court of appeals.

Atlanta Legions March for Armistice Day

To the beat of drums and the blare of bugles, legions of America's defenders marched through Atlanta's streets yesterday in celebration of the anniversary of the Armistice. The photograph was made looking toward Five Points. Staff photo by H. J. Slayton.

Wars' Memories Will Foster Peace,
Rivers Tells Armistice Day Crowd

Rising Generation Must Be Kept Aware of Its Horror, He Declares.

Organized veterans of wars that have been fought can serve the people of the nation best by keeping alive memories of the bitter suffering on the battlefields, Governor-elect E. D. Rivers told the thousands massed on Grant field yesterday.

Before the governor-elect were gathered men and women who had marched through the streets of Atlanta on Armistice Day to celebrate the peace of 18 years.

"You will have carried on your duties as soldiers of your country when you bid the grim realities of war," said Rivers. "Wars pass into the pages of history and are accepted as instances of glorious achievements. The

F. D. R. Disregards
Italy's New Empire

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today disregarded the new title of "Emperor of Ethiopia" assumed by King Victor Emmanuel, of Italy, in transmitting greetings to the monarch on his 67th birthday.

Addressing the message simply to "His Majesty, Vittorio Emanuele III, King of Italy," the President said:

"It is my great pleasure to extend to your majesty greetings of friendship and good will on your birthday and best wishes for the continued prosperity of Italy and the happiness of the Italian people."

The United States government, clinging to its policy of refusing to recognize territory acquired by force, is withholding recognition of the Italian annexation of the Ethiopian empire.

CASA LOMA BLAZE
SAID INCENDIARY;
SHERIFF PROBING

Equipment Was Removed Four Hours Before Fire Was Discovered by Motorists, Adams Reveals.

Sheriff E. L. Adams, of Clayton county, is investigating reports that the fire which destroyed the erstwhile swanky Casa Loma night club in the early hours of yesterday morning was of incendiary origin. Sheriff Adams said last night that he was pushing as vigorous a probe of the fire as possible. Early developments, he said, are expected.

Among questions the sheriff said he would like to have answered is why, when a night watchman was supposed to be on duty, the fire was only discovered by passing motorists after it had gained considerable headway. He also stated that all the expensive trimmings and equipment which had made the place the most popular night spot in this territory, during its brief operation, have been moved out and taken away.

"Men, whose identity is unknown to any of our local people," said the sheriff, "have been at work since last week removing everything movable about the place and taking the stuff to some unknown destination. I am told they left with the last load at about 10 o'clock on Tuesday night, only about four hours before the building was discovered to be in flames."

Estimates of the loss vary from $10,000 to $15,000, with the latter figure believed to be more probably accurate. So far as known the building was not insured.

The Casa Loma was put out of business by a spectacular raid in mid-summer, after it had operated only about five weeks, in which DeKalb and Clayton county officers smashed expensive equipment of the gambling room and the elaborate bar and its Hailey Asks Conference After Bankers Refuse To Absorb City Scrip.

Reversal of the refusal of the Atlanta Clearing House Association to absorb $800,000 in city scrip will be sought at a conference today between council members and every member of the 1937 city council, it plans of Alderman I. Gloor Hailey, ninth ward.

Hailey plans also to invite Mayor-nominee William B. Hartfield to attend the conference along with Councilman Aubrey Milam, finance committee chairman, and B. Graham West, city comptroller.

The Hailey move was initiated yesterday as city leaders studied effects of the refusal of the clearing house to absorb the scrip and the intimation that further co-operation of local financial institutions in financing the city next year can not be expected unless the deficit, listed by bankers at $3,054,308, is reduced.

Wait Acceptance.
Thomas K. Glenn, president of the clearing house, last night promised to let Hailey know this morning whether members would consent to participate in such a conference and, if so, Hailey will at a time and urge all members of the incoming council to attend.

The city's fiscal problems are a matter of grave concern to the clearing house, because bank loans are necessary to pay interest and retire bonds amounting to about $750,000 on January 1, only three days before the new council is sworn in.

BILLION IN COTTON
TO BE MARKETING
BY DIXIE FARMERS

Southern Planters Are Looking to Biggest 'Turkey Day' in Five Years as Prices Remain High.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The south looked forward today to the best Thanksgiving in five years with the major part of a billion-dollar cotton crop safely headed for market.

Ten million bales have already passed through the gins while in the fields workers are busily picking the rest of the crop that the government predicts will total 12,400,000 bales. Most important of all, the cotton has gone on a market averaging 12 cents a pound. While bigger crops have been raised in the past five years, they brought prices that ranged from the disastrous low of 6 cents a pound in 1932 to approximately 11 1/2 cents last year.

In dollars and cents at current levels the crop should bring approximately $750,000,000 for the lint and more, than $250,000,000 for the seed. Payment from the government for soil erosion operations will push the total well above a billion dollars.

It also means that 600,000 to 3,500,000 more bales for the railroads to handle, the banks to finance, the gins to process, the exchanges to hedge, and the merchant and exporter to sell.

Export figures and spot sales so far this season have disclosed that this crop is moving rapidly into consumption channels. Foreign sales are nearly two million bales, and consumption both here and abroad is running at record levels.

Evidence of the heavy demand at present to American staple was present on Monday when the government released its latest crop estimate, a figure more than half a million bales above expectations. Ordinarily this would have occasioned a wide open break in prices, but after dipping about $1.50 a bale, the market re-

Evacuation of Foreigners Is Asked as Manchoukuoan Attack Is Reported.

NANKING, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The Chinese government today asked immediate evacuation of all foreigners from northern China where an attack of 30,000 Manchoukuoan and Mongol troops was reported. (The attack was reported repulsed in Suiyuan province, one of the districts from which the government urged evacuation.)

The government said notes had been sent all governments maintaining diplomatic relations with China asking them to urge their nationals to leave Suiyuan, Ningxia and Tsinghai provinces and "also some parts of Inner Mongolia under separate Mongolian jurisdiction."

Visas Not Issued.
Visas will not be issued to provincial foreigners to enter the provinces named, the government said, because "Chinese authorities will not be responsible for protection of foreigners" in the areas.

Suiyuan and Kansu provinces hold the majority of Americans in northern China.

(At Peiping it was reported the Manchoukuoan and Mongol attackers sought to invade the province using planes, armored cars and tanks. The reports did not estimate casualties, but said two airplanes alleged to be of Japanese manufacture were forced down near Tachia where the fighting was reported to have centered.)

Mystery Baby Found--Moses of Piney Woods

Almost like the miracle of Moses in the bullrushes, said Mrs. Louis E. Crawford, wife of a WPA worker, of Pearl River, La., was the manner in which an eight-pound, seven-day-old baby boy was "dropped into her lap" by a big, black dog which trotted back into the brush. Associated Press photo.

Modern Miracle Child—A "Moses of the Piney Woods"—About Seven Days Old and in Perfect Health Is Transferred to New Orleans Hospital.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 11.—(UP)—A modern miracle baby—a "Moses of the piney woods"—brought into the clearing of a backwoods home near Pearl River in the jaws of a huge mongrel dog, jammed a tiny thumb into his puckered mouth tonight and slept peacefully at Charity hospital here.

Physicians said the husky, eight-pound, blue-eyed boy was about six or seven days old and in perfect health. They said little "Moses" must stay in the hospital until he is five weeks old.

Back at the clapboard cabin of Louis Crawford, 40 miles northeast of here, Mrs. Crawford excitedly tended her own two and four-year-old tots tonight and planned how her family could adopt the mystery babe she took from the dog last night.

"I figure he's almost like a miracle—like Moses in the bullrushes—and I think we was meant to keep him," she said. "I still think there is a chance to continued to throng about the place. Most of them were like Crawford, who makes 26 a month on the WPA,

U. S. Labor Official Believes That Walkout Can Be Settled Quickly.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Assistant Labor Secretary Edward F. McGrawy said tonight both sides in the Pacific coast's strike crippled maritime industry had assured him peace negotiations would be resumed tomorrow.

His announcement, after a day spent in conferring with representatives of seagoing unions, came after peace negotiations for employers and workers had indicated pessimism.

"Both sides have assured me that negotiations will be definitely resumed tomorrow," McGrawy told newsmen. "I still think there is a chance to settle this strike quickly."

Vatican City Reports
Pope Pius Is 'Weak'

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 22.—(UP)—Intimates of Pope Pius today admitted anxiety over the pontiff's health, saying that for several days he had scarcely been able to walk.

Members of the pontiff's household described his condition reluctantly only after long questioning.

They strenuously denied reports that his boldness had suffered partial paralysis in one leg, but said that in his very brief walks he dragged his left leg and that his ankles and calves were swollen.

Household attendants are making every effort to save the pope's energy. They say that he has a horror of being ill and resolutely insists on continuing his daily audiences. To save his strength, the audience room has been shifted nearer his apartment and whenever possible attendants carry him to the small papal throne.

Azana Is Reported En Route to Valencia as New Capital Pours Troops Into Zone of War

By The Associated Press.

MADRID, Nov. 12.—(Thursday)—Fascist insurgents launched a desperate attack on Madrid from Los Franceses bridge towards the University City in the northwest section of the capital at 11:20 p. m. (5:20 p. m. Atlanta time) last night.

The incessant rat-a-tat-tat of machine guns and rifles, punctuated by heavy gunfire, especially from the University City area, sounded ominously close to the population in the center of the city.

Madrid citizens feared a general attack on the capital was being signaled as sudden, crackling fire was heard all along the lines from Casa de Campo to the Toledo bridge.

The sector near Los Franceses bridge was stoutly defended by an international legion of Poles, Germans, French and Italians, many of whom served in the World War and who had built there the strongest lines of trenches Spain has ever seen.

Two Attacks.

The insurgents were believed to have started their sortie in two sections, one fording the Manzanares river at Puerta de Mirro and the other following the Escorial railroad to Los Franceses bridge.

Earlier the fascists' batteries a quarter of a mile west of Carabanchel Bajo and north of Cuatro Vientos had rained shells across the river into sections of Madrid.

One insurgent battery was brought a mile nearer the capital between Carabanchel and the Telavara highway to a point only 200 to 300 yards from the government front line trenches.

Observers on the telephone building in Madrid witnessed shells exploding.

South Will Benefit
By Steel Expansion

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(P)—One of the largest programs for plant expansion in the post-depression era, involving major additions to the south's steel-making capacity, was disclosed today in the announcement of a $35,000,000 construction appropriation by Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

The program, which will be completed by the end of 1937, continues one started in 1935 on which $34,500,000 already has been spent. First construction under the new plans will be erection of a continuous strip-sheet mill and other facilities at Sparrows Point, Md.

The plant at Lackawanna, N. Y., and possibly other plants are expected to benefit from the expansion plans.

Announcement of the Sparrows Point construction is the second in recent weeks of interest to the south, the United States Steel Corporation having made public October 15 plans for additional production for the Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Co. at Birmingham, Ala., at a cost of $29,000,000.

MINE UNION ORDERS GREEN TO FACE TRIAL

vention at Tampa, Fla., said several other unions would offer Green membership if the miners expelled him. They added his re-election as federation president virtually was assured if he wanted it.

From another quarter, the industrial organization committee, which is headed by John L. Lewis, president of the miners, received encouragement. The International Ladies' Garment Workers Union decided not to send delegates to the federation convention. David Dubinsky, president of the union, announced also that a referendum of the membership had voted a $1 per member levy for the Lewis committee's steel organization campaign. The garment workers constitute one of the suspended unions.

Four Definite Charges.

The summons served upon Green by the miners commanded him to show why he should not cease and desist from the following activities:

1. "Participation and conspiracy to suspend the United Mine Workers of America from membership in the American Federation of Labor contrary to the laws of said federation."
2. "Failure to adhere and conform to the policies of the United Mine Workers of America as defined and ordered by its international convention."
3. "Continuance of association and fraternization with avowed enemies of the United Mine Workers of America subsequent to its suspension by aforesaid federation."
4. "Distortion and misrepresentation of aims and objectives of United Mine Workers of America and its authorized representatives."

The date on which Green was ordered to appear conflicted with sessions of the federation convention, which is expected to decide whether suspension of the industrial committee should be converted into expulsion.

FEDERATION LEADERS ANGERED BY SUMMONS

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 11.—(P)—American Federation of Labor leaders, angered by the tactics of John L. Lewis, rebel unions, talked today of expelling them from the Federation.

Only a few of those here for the Federation's annual convention still talked of peace between the warring factions. Claiming the rebels had "opened the door" for Communists to bore into the trade union movement, John P. Frey, president of the Federation's metal trades department, said the present sentiment of his divisions was to eject Lewis' miners and the nine other unions allied with them.

Lewis' admission of the United Radio and Electrical Workers to his committee for Industrial Organization led D. W. Tracy, president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers to assert:

"Their charters should be revoked. I certainly am not going to stand by and permit someone to steal something that belongs to me."

Builders for Expulsion.
The Industrial Union of Electrical Workers, Lewis admitted, was denied A. F. of L. membership last winter because the Tracer union, a craft organization, claims the right to enroll all radio and electrical manufacturing employees.

John Coefield, president of the plumbers, said the building trades unions at present were inclined to vote unanimously for expulsion when the convention starts next Monday.

These and other Federation leaders declined to comment for publication.

LAID OFF FROM WORK BY CONSTIPATION

"For four years I suffered from constipation. I had gotten so weak I had to lay off from work. My doctor told me to use Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since then, my grocery list has never been complete without it."—Mr. A. W. Murphy, 1010 16th St., Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

This delicious cereal will give you the same, sure relief. Laboratory tests prove it's safe. Within the body, its "bulk" absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the intestines. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B which tones the intestines, and iron for the blood.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. Serve as a cereal or cook into appetizing recipes. Isn't this natural food better than pills and drugs?

When you're at the grocery store today, get a package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Try it a week, and see if you don't feel worlds better. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

U. S., CANADIAN PACT AIDS SALE OF COTTON

Canada's Purchases Increased by 45,000 Bales, Says State Department.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—As a result of the reciprocal trade agreement negotiated by the Roosevelt administration with Canada last year, cotton and lint from this country which were assured against the imposition of any duty recorded increased sales in Canada from January to June of about 45,000 bales, with an increased value of $1,900,000, the State Department announced today.

Concerning textile products generally, the analysis of Canadian-American trade during the first half year under the reciprocal agreement, which was released today by the State Department, said:

"Sales of American textiles in Canada have fallen off sharply in recent years, and on many of them only moderate reductions in duty were obtainable. It is significant, therefore, that sizeable gains in Canadian imports from the United States were made. Cotton piece goods found a market in Canada amounting to $212,000 more than in the same period of last year. Miscellaneous cotton wearing apparel registered a gain of an additional $100,000. Fabrics of silk or of silk mixtures showed increased sales of $75,000. Wearing apparel and other products of rayon found a market in Canada to an increased value of $133,000. Smaller gains were recorded for oil cloth and other coated or impregnated textile materials."

The analysis further revealed that those classes of American products, agricultural and industrial, on which reductions were obtained in import duties or valuations from Canada under the agreement showed, in general, the most marked recovery in trade during the first six months of its operation, namely 24 per cent, and accounted for $15,000,000 out of the total increased trade of $23,000,000.

"These trade increases were widely distributed among many classes of American products," department officials declared, "and were most notable in certain cotton and rayon piece goods and wearing apparel, fruits and vegetables, automotive products, etc."

At Geneva the International Red Cross announced it had protested the treatment of hostages by both belligerents.

Possibility of Edward Abdicating Discussed by British Publication

LONDON, Nov. 11.—(UP)—The Week, one of the most outspoken of British publications, shocked the public today by speculating on the possibility of King Edward's abdication so that he might marry Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson.

It was by far the most frank discussion of the monarch's friendship with the former Baltimore debutante which has appeared in any British publication thus far.

The present high rate of insurance on the coronation, The Week said, is due to the possibility of the king's abdication.

"The idea behind the rate," the journal stated, "is that the king insists on marrying Mrs. Simpson and the opposition of the bishops and the conservative party generally will force him from the throne."

The article deals at length with what it calls the "palace battle" between the old and young guards.

"It is true," The Week continued, "that if any two persons so placed as the king and Mrs. Simpson were to fall in love their situation would be an intolerable difficulty. Therefore, there is no doubt that its possibility is an absorbing subject for study in the American press and a profitable object of speculation for the British stock exchange."

"For although the British press has been silent on the matter, the same cannot be said for insurance brokers in the city. The difficulty of finding a valid reason for having an insurable interest in the king's marriage has prevented a brisk business from being done in insurance against this possibility."

"In any case there is yet no evidence at all to support the premise in the American press and the city."

U. S. WILL NOT EASE CHEST BURDEN HERE

Federal Relief Cares Only for Normally Employable, Says Strickland.

The federal government will not contribute funds for any of the urgent human needs which the Atlanta Community Chest will be called upon to meet during the next year.

Robert Strickland, vice chairman of the Chest's advance gifts committee, told the Atlanta Advertising Club at its luncheon Wednesday.

"The spirit and purpose of all federal relief is to meet conditions brought about directly by economic depression and is not in any sense set up to help 'the poor we have always with us,'" Mr. Strickland explained.

"The federal emergency program," he said, "seeks to tide over the able-bodied, normally employable man and woman until conditions improve to the point where a normal job will open up. It makes no provision for the child abandoned by its father, for the deserted wife, or the wayward boy or girl in desperate need of help and guidance, for the hopelessly sick who cannot be admitted to overcrowded charity hospitals, or for the thousands and one other desperate human emergencies that develop in good times as in bad times, representing strictly private disasters apart from economic conditions."

"It will take several years for the social security program to become effective and cannot relieve the load on the Community Chest in any instance during the next year, for which this campaign is being made."

Even when it becomes fully effective, it cannot help the orphaned and abandoned child, the cripple or the victim of chronic disease who cannot work, or the aged whose feebleness already has placed them in institutions under care of the Chest.

"These people have no place to turn for help except to the agencies supported through the Community Chest."

Mrs. Simpson probably will go soon to the villa of some American friends at Cannes, and may remain until her divorce becomes permanent.

Most people believe all rumors and theories about a prospective marriage between Mrs. Simpson and the king are unreliable. They say Mrs. Simpson probably does not know what is in the king's mind in that respect.

It is still the steadfast opinion in palace circles that the king will not marry.

It was learned, however, that since her divorce, Mrs. Simpson has dined frequently with the king, sometimes at the palace, sometimes at Cumberland Terrace and more often at the homes of mutual friends.

The king still sends her flowers, including gardenias, carnations and huge chrysanthemums. Soon now, they will be able to see each other so frequently because the king's coronation engagements are growing heavier. This week end he will visit the fleet and next week end he will visit the distressed areas.

by those of us who are fortunate enough to have a little more than we actually need for ourselves." Mr. Strickland estimated that gainfully employed Atlantans will earn upwards of $200,000,000 during the coming year, and that the value of products manufactured in Atlanta will exceed $150,000,000 for the year. "The budget of $423,000 set up as the minimum needed to maintain the Chest agencies during the next year should surely be easily raised by a city so rich," he asserted.

2 IN AMBULANCE BURNED TO DEATH

Florida Youths Are Trapped in Mercy Car in Collision.

CRESTVIEW, Fla., Nov. 11.—(UP)—Trapped in a flaming ambulance after it collided with an automobile, Louis Rice, 19, and Aaron Sharpe, 19, both of DeFuniak Springs, Fla., were burned to death here tonight.

Both victims, witnesses said, were burned beyond recognition when the ambulance, driven by John Tague, of Crestview, collided with a machine driven by R. J. Merritt, Pensacola. Tague, who was thrown clear of the wreckage by the impact of the two machines, and Merritt, attempted to rescue the pair, but was prevented from doing so by the leaping flames and intense heat.

The accident occurred about six miles east of here as Tague and Sharpe were taking young Rice to Pensacola for hospitalization after a previous accident during the day in which he received a fractured ankle.

Merritt was detained by officers tonight pending a coroner's inquest.

CHINA IS DISTURBED BY U. S. EMBARGOES

NANKING, China, Nov. 11.—(P)—Chinese military authorities viewed with grave concern tonight the United States policy, enunciated by President Roosevelt, of restricting exports of American military airplanes until government requirements are fulfilled.

A spokesman pointed out China had bought heavily of such craft in the United States in the last few years in creating a Chinese air corps, and now has unfulfilled contracts in America for more planes.

He expressed hope the latter would not be affected by the new United States policy, and that the restrictions would not continue indefinitely.

"China," the spokesman added, "might be forced to turn to Europe, especially to Italy, to fill her airplane requirements."

made up my mind very definitely about that movie version—I'll have nothing to do with it.

"I get letters from all over the country about the moving picture; people call me up on the telephone to advise me on it; they stop me in the streets to offer suggestions.

Not Going to Hollywood. "The producers have urged me and pleaded with me to move to Hollywood, at least until the job is completed.

"I am not going to Hollywood. I have said again and again I am not interested in the Hollywood life. I have also said I prefer to lead my own quiet life and I do not intend to disrupt that.

"I'd be miserable in Hollywood. When I landed there, I would be turned over to a press agent whose job it would be to see that I appeared at this function and at that function and that I met all the nice people. I would be posing for pictures all day long, shaking hands with this celebrity and that. I would be at it all day and all night.

"I don't care to go over to Grauman's Chinese theater and record the imprint of my hand in deathless cement for the future generations.

Dislike Lead Speakers. "I don't care to be hauled up to loud speakers, to murmur to the delighted crowds: 'Hello, everybody! I'm so sorry, very happy to be here. I hope you like the picture. This is the biggest moment of my life.'

"I don't like to travel. It's such a long way across this continent. If I ever travel I am going to Siam to see those archaeological bits they are uncovering there.

"I don't want any part of that moving picture job. What friends I have I want to keep. I can see a lot of trouble ahead if I should become involved in that screen production.

"Most of those who write me insist they want to see the book on the screen just as it was written. They want no changes. They want nothing omitted.

Something Must Go. "Now, 'Gone With the Wind' is a mighty long book. No one knows that better than I. No one knows better than I the movie men will have to whittle that book down to normal movie size. Something must go. I don't know much about moving pictures, but I have a feeling that war scenes thrill directors and probably this one will be far more interesting in those war spectacles than he will be in the reconstruction periods that come after. He will have the last of battle in his nostrils if he is human, and I am afraid the aftermath of war will bore him to death.

"Suppose I was out there in Hollywood and they cut the vital reconstruction period of the book down to nothing, where would I be? I'd be out on a limb.

"Every time I met would be shrieking at me: 'Great Scott, why did you let them do it? I'd never be able to explain. The best way to avoid any explanations is to have nothing to do with the picture at all.

Hopeful—Not Confident. "Mr. Selznick has assured me he will see that the whole spirit of the book is carried into the moving picture. He did a very good job on 'David Copperfield.' I am hopeful about 'Gone With the Wind,' but not confident.

"There is another angle about the moving picture that has been bothering me. Everyone seems anxious to get some relative, friend or acquaintance into the cast.

"One woman has insisted I land her old family chauffeur in the role of 'Uncle Peter.' I have seen the chauffeur and he does look like 'Uncle Peter,' but I have nothing to say about who will play that role.

"This old chauffeur may look like 'Uncle Peter' but he has never had any stage or screen experience. I am quite sure Hollywood needs persons with some acting ability when they are whipping together a motion picture. They undoubtedly have all the types they need out there. I am sure they will have no trouble in filling the proper person to the proper role.

Indignant Woman. "The woman who suggested her chauffeur as 'Uncle Peter' was indignant when I explained I couldn't help her. She told me she had read in the newspapers I was putting my niece into the role of 'Scarlett.' She almost snorted as she said: 'Well, you seem to be making a family affair of it.' I never was quite able to convince her I had no niece, and particularly none in line for one of the roles.

"Then, there are fond mothers all over the country whose daughters are natural born tap dancers. They have read a movie is to be made of the book and they insist I find some spot for their tap-dancing daughters. I am quite sure they have never read the book. I can't remember a single character in it who was a child tap dancer. Many of them become inquisitive when I tell them this and seem to feel it would be the easiest thing in the world for me to work a tap dancer into that story, but the trouble with me according to them, is that, 'I just don't care, so there!'

"I am dragged into argument after argument as to whether I believe Mark Gable should play Rhett, or Joan Crawford should play Scarlett, or do I believe this actress should play Scarlett, and that actor should play Rhett. I tell them I don't know—and I don't. The moving picture people know what makes good pictures, they live or die by their ability to cast their roles properly.

Casting Difficulties. "About the casting, Selznick adds: 'We have had some trouble. I have had many conferences with George Cukor, to whom I have assigned the direction of the picture, and the unfortunate truth is some of the actors we would prefer are under contract to other companies and are not obtainable.

"At the moment, we feel the safest thing to do would be to find unknown players—at least for the roles of Scarlett and Rhett—for a large part of the screen public has an unfortunate tendency to associate actors with roles they have formerly played and to refuse to concede the possibility of versatility.

"However, I do not want this to be taken as a promise to cast the picture with 'unknowns,' as there are two or three players who we are certain will give superb performances if we can arrange to secure them, and who would be more than acceptable to all but a carping few.

As to Margaret Mitchell: "My movie tastes run to Donald Duck and the four Marx Brothers, none of whom, I believe, could portray effectively the role of Scarlett or Rhett."

Tomorrow's concluding installment of this series will sum up Margaret Mitchell's philosophy about her sudden fame and her plans for the future.

ALL MAJOR NATIONS PAY HONOR TO DEAD

ring called upon the American people to unite in an effort to preserve peace "at home as well as abroad."

Similar ceremonies were held in many other nations. King Edward, of England, and the Croix de Feu emblem on the tomb of Belgium's Unknown Soldier while a muted trumpet sounded and guns boomed in salute.

Germany, seeking to erase the armistice from the public memory, passed the day in studied silence. Only one newspaper mentioned the armistice, remarking that "eighteen years ago Germany's disgrace was sealed and that the time is definitely past when Germany can be forced into concessions."

In Vienna, the foreign ministers of Italy, Austria and Hungary opened the day with a series of conferences at which one of the questions to be discussed was restoration of Hungary's war-carved domain.

Hungary represented as planning to demand permission to rearm herself on a large scale, thus joining Germany in casting off the restrictions of the post-war treaty of Versailles.

PRESIDENT AND PERSHING AT UNKNOWN SOLDIER. WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—(P)—A profusion of floral tributes laid on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier today by President Roosevelt and veterans' groups bespoke the nation's devotion to those who lost their lives in the "World War."

The chief executive acted in the name of all the American people on Armistice Day when, promptly at 11 a. m., he stood with bared head before the shallow sepulcher on the rolling slopes of Arlington National cemetery.

The Presidential wreath, a three-foot circle of huge white chrysanthemums, was placed at the foot of the tomb by General John J. Pershing, leader of the American expeditionary force during the World War and the last surviving member of the allied high command.

Garden of Flags. A detachment of infantry, a squad of machine guns and a gleaming line of white-legged sailors stood stiffly at attention while the presidential party paid homage to the Unknown Soldier. A bugler stepped forward and sent the notes of "Taps" ringing over the Virginia hills toward Washington and the President, accompanied by his party of notables, departed in silence.

Don-clad, cloaked and hooded, converted the vicinity of the tomb into a veritable garden of silk flags as Harry W. Colmery, national commander of the American Legion, and Mrs. O. W. Egan, national president of the Legion Auxiliary, placed wreaths on the tomb.

Representatives of Legion posts from 40 states stood up in pallid formation and saluted as foreign military and naval attaches and members of American patriotic societies added floral decorations.

Speakers. The massed spectators stared with puzzled expressions as a heavy-set, unadorned figure escorted by Veterans of Foreign Wars and Gold Star Mothers walked up to the tomb and deposited a small bunch of white and red roses among the magnificent array of flowers.

He was Sergeant Edward F. Younger, A. E. F. veteran now a foreman at the Chicago postoffice, who 15 years ago in a little French chapel at Chalons selected the Unknown Soldier by placing a similar wreath on one of four flag-draped caskets.

Those roses may seem plain beside the other flowers," he said, "but we couldn't get fancy bouquets in France 15 years ago."

Secretary of War Woodring made the principal address at exercises in the Arlington amphitheater.

Annual Armistice Day services for Woodrow Wilson, wartime president, were conducted at Washington cathedral by the Right Reverend James E. Freeman, Episcopal bishop of Washington.

DEMONSTRATIONS MARK OBSERVANCE IN FRANCE. PARIS, Nov. 11.—(P)—France's foreign minister proclaimed today a policy of armed strength—"because the weak are no longer respected"—as the nation observed the 15th anniversary of the end of the World War.

The pronouncement by Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos came while political rivals clashed during the solemn Armistice Day ceremonies. Police dispersed the demonstrators—Fascist advocates and Conservatives on the one side and Socialists and Communists on the other—and held some of them temporarily in "preventive arrest."

Delbos, asserting France intends to be strong, said this policy was her "only choice" in a world where a state of "permanent mobilization" exists. He assailed what he called the "menaces which confront humanity."

A military display gave point to the foreign minister's speech. Heavy guns, tanks and armored cars rolled along the Champs Elysees to the cheers of tens of thousands, but a scheduled aviation display was postponed because of rain.

The nation's military strength, Delbos declared, will be used "in the service of peace."

Fist fights broke out in the crowd watching the parade of patriotic veterans' organizations.

Communists and Socialists, singing the "Internationale," tried to drown out Conservatives chanting the "Marseillaise."

"Long live the popular front!" shouted the government backers while their political rivals yelled "France for the People!"

Back came the cry from the Socialists and Communists, "To Berlin with the Fascists!"

Police broke up the demonstrations to avert a repetition of the riots of last Armistice Day.

EDWARD LEADS BRITAIN IN TRIBUTE TO WAR DEAD. LONDON, Nov. 11.—(P)—The peoples of the far-flung British empire, led by their 42-year-old king, paid tribute today to their World War dead.

The slight-figured Edward, clad in the blue uniform of an admiral of the fleet, stood stiffly at attention for two minutes of silence at the Cenotaph, London's war memorial, in the midst of a throng of thousands.

All London was hushed. Then a gun boomed. "Taps" was sounded at the Cenotaph and the throng sang "O God, Our Help in Ages Past." The bishop of London, Dr. A. F. V. Ingham, sang prayers and a blessing to conclude the ceremony.

Through British lands—on which "the sun never sets"—the period of silence was observed at 11 a. m. Thus it was five hours later in eastern Canada, for example, than in London.

Flare-Drum Monument. The multitude began to assemble at London's memorial shortly after day-break. During the night new flags had been placed on the Cenotaph.

Traffic was halted in the Whitehall district, in which the monument is located, at 9:30, and from then on the crowd swelled rapidly.

Detachments of the army, navy and air force formed a square around the memorial. There were also the scarlet-cloaked royal household cavalry and the dark-coated, booted and spurred royal horse artillery.

From a window of the home office, Queen Mary looked down upon the ceremony with Princess Mary, her only daughter, and the Duchesses of York and Kent, wives of two of her sons.

The window was draped in blue and gold. All other windows in the vicinity were filled, and many persons stood on house tops.

Arriving at 10:50, the king—for the first time as monarch—placed a wreath at the foot of the Cenotaph. Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, standing at the end of a line of black-coated, silk-hatted cabinet members, laid another wreath on the monument.

Silent Period. As the chiming boomed 11 on the giant Big Ben tower, a gun from the horse guards parade gave the signal for the silent period.

For two minutes King Edward stood with his hands stiffly at his side, his head held high. Behind him were his brothers, the Duke of York and the Duke of Kent, both in naval uniform.

For all the thousands assembled, the moments were filled with thoughts of World War days.

Passengers flying to France and Scandinavia observed the memorial period. Pilots received the time signal by wireless, throttled down their engines and dipped the noses of their machines in respect to the fallen.

Among those who filed past the Cenotaph were 500 unemployed "hunger marchers" from the South Wales mining districts.

LEOPOLD PLACES WREATH ON WAR SOLDIER'S GRAVE. BRUSSELS, Nov. 11.—(P)—King Leopold placed a wreath and the Croix de Feu emblem on the unknown soldier's tomb in the Rue Royale as Belgium observed Armistice Day today.

Members of the American Legion branch joined in the ceremonies.

NAZIS VIRTUALLY IGNORE ARMISTICE DAY FETE. BERLIN, Nov. 11.—(P)—Germany today virtually ignored Armistice Day.

The only newspaper to mention it, the Westfälische Landeszeitung, remarked that "18 years ago Germany's disgrace was sealed," but added: "The time is definitely passed when Germany can be forced into concessions."

ITALY CELEBRATES KING'S BIRTHDAY. ROME, Nov. 11.—(P)—While many other World War combatant nations observed Armistice Day, Italy celebrated the 67th anniversary of King Victor Emmanuel III today.

Italy's commemoration of the end of the World War came last Wednesday, the 18th anniversary of the signing of Italy's separate armistice with Austria and Hungary.

King Victor Emmanuel, now ruler of Ethiopia as well as Italy, received congratulations from Italian aristocrats while flags flew from all public buildings.

He was crowned monarch of Italy in 1900, after his father, King Humbert I, was assassinated.

NORRIS TO DETERMINE TYPE OF GOVERNMENT

NORRIS, Tenn., Nov. 11.—(P)—The Tennessee Valley Authority's model town of Norris is getting ready to vote on the adoption of some type of town government which can serve as a model for others.

A proposed referendum is to be submitted to the town council at its next meeting.

At present six town organizations each elect a member to represent their group on the council. The council has no district powers. Being able only to recommend measures. The town's finances are controlled by the TVA. Town ordinances may be passed, but there is no machinery to enforce them.

Lee Green, of the economic and sociological division of the TVA, said "it seems to me that in this model town there is available a rare opportunity for trying out some of the unusual forms of city government."

DR. SMITH STARTS HIS ENGINE 20 TIMES A DAY. His oil is too thick to flow quickly. Over 100 closely fitting parts in his engine grate together "dry" of oil. Dr. Smith needs a fast-flowing oil, one that will reach all engine parts instantly.

ONLY 5 ENGINE STARTS IN 500 MILES OF DRIVING. This car is used in long trips across the country. These little wear takes place here if the oil is tough enough to withstand high speed, and resist breaking down into sludge and carbon.

Why Dr. Smith's engine wears out faster than one that travels 3 times the distance

IT'S because Dr. Smith STARTS HIS ENGINE so often. Automotive engineers now tell you that approximately three-fourths of engine wear can be caused in the starting period.

New Fast-Flowing Oil Checks Starting Wear

Engines in some cars will wear out long before others. Oils that flow slowly during starting are to blame for most of this wear.

To cut down starting wear, you need a FAST-FLOWING oil...one that "starts" instantly. (This is fairly easy to make.)

But when your engine is warmed up, you need a different quality in your oil...you need a TOUGH oil that holds its body and resists breaking down into sludge and carbon. (This is also fairly easy to make.)

The problem has been to get both these qualities in one oil. At a cost of $3,000,000, Shell engineers have now produced such a lubricant. The new Golden Shell Motor Oil is both FAST-FLOWING and TOUGH.

Experts say that the process behind the new Golden Shell Motor Oil is the biggest advance in 25 years of motor-oil refining.

The recommended grade of Golden Shell Motor Oil can keep an engine "young" a year longer...can save 50% on your annual repair bills. Start protecting your engine with Golden Shell Motor Oil.

Drive your car into a neighborly Shell service station today. There are over 30,000 from coast to coast.

RIVERS, WIFE TO HEAD PIANO ENSEMBLE BODY

Governor-Elect Commends
Association for Work in Behalf of Nacoochee.

Governor-elect and Mrs. E. D. Rivers will head the advisory board of the Georgia Piano Ensemble Association for 1936-37, Mrs. Mabelle S. Wall, president, announced yesterday.

The Georgia Piano Ensemble will present concerts at 2 and 8 o'clock today at the Erlanger theater for the benefit of the Rabun Gap-Nacoochee school, through Atlanta Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, and under the auspices of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mr. Rivers, in accepting the position as head of the advisory board, issued the following statement:

"Mrs. Rivers and I deem it a compliment that we were selected to head the advisory board of the Georgia Piano Ensemble Association. This organization performs a worthwhile service in bringing together musical students throughout the state for further cultural development and giving the public an opportunity to learn of their work."

"The association is to be further commended for the annual concerts given by it for the benefit of the Rabun Gap-Nacoochee school, thus contributing to the educational opportunities of the youth of the state."

"It pleases us very much that we are in position to patronize this splendid enterprise."

As final rehearsals were completed last night, Mrs. Wall predicted that "the third annual Georgia Piano Ensemble concert will be one of the most brilliant events of its kind ever staged in the south." She also expressed appreciation of the association to "the schools and civic organizations whose untiring work and splendid co-operation have made the concert possible."

Officers of the Georgia Piano Ensemble Association are: Mrs. Mabelle S. Wall, president; Mrs. Paul Bryan, vice president; Mrs. E. S. Heath, secretary; Miss Eda Bartholomew, treasurer.

CONFERENCE IS SOUGHT OF BANKS AND COUNCIL

cell assumes office. Another cause for apprehension is that the city always borrows sufficient funds to meet pay rolls for the 4,000 city employees from January 1 until May 1, the time the first instalment of 1937 taxes falls due. Should the banks cut off the city's credit, neither of these fiscal problems will be solved.

Hailey last night said he expected the banks to maintain the attitude they have taken, that they have a right to know the temper of the new council and he was willing to pledge co-operation in reducing the deficit. He asserted if the city's credit is in such a state the banks refuse to absorb the scrip, merchant of Atlanta should not be asked to take such a risk.

Hartsfield Confident.
Hartsfield has studied the fiscal condition of the city for several months and yesterday insisted he will have a financial program through which retirement of the deficit will be undertaken, but declined to outline details at this time.

Conjectures were that an increase in tax assessments valuations will be sought, but those close to the mayor-nominee know he will not permit this; that a general salary reduction of at least 10 per cent for non-school employees will be sought; that purge of various city departments of all but absolutely necessary employees will be undertaken, and that services must be reduced. It was pointed out that all these and even more economies would be necessary to make an appreciable dent in the deficit.

from Kalgan, Chahar said, resisted what they viewed as an effort to extend the Japanese-sponsored state of Manchukuo westward.

A spokesman for the United States embassy said the Chinese note was received and forwarded to Washington.

Removal Urged.
He emphasized that United States authorities are not authorized to "order" nationals to evacuate, but said that whenever conditions in the interior of China warrant they keep nationals advised and often urge evacuation as a precautionary measure.

The Japanese embassy announced it could "not accept the note on face value. There must be some ulterior motive, but we are forwarding it to Tokyo."

A Chinese official frankly stated tonight that "we are forced to take a strong stand to show that China still controls Inner Mongolia. We expect strong reaction from some quarters but we cannot allow bandits or any others with tanks and airplanes to push into our provinces."

JAPS LAND NAVAL PARTY AT SHANGHAI.
SHANGHAI, Nov. 11.—(AP)—A Japanese naval party was landed in Shanghai today after a Japanese seaman was shot and killed by an unidentified gunman in the International Settlement.

The victim, Yasui Takase, member of the crew of the Japanese Kasei Maru, was set upon and killed in the Japanese cotton mill area of the settlement.

Armed with pistols, rifles and machine guns, the landing party patrolled the area as the death was added to the increasing loss of similar incidents laid by Japanese to Chinese Nationalist sympathizers.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often
Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 8 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorder, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, and successfully try millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Von Kanya said:

"I am happy to announce to this friendly gathering that the Hungarian regent, during his coming visit to Rome, personally will convey to his majesty, King Victor Emmanuel III, Hungarian recognition of the Roman empire in Ethiopia."

Admiral Nicholas Horthy, Hungarian regent, is scheduled to go to Rome November 20.

To Present Credentials.

Officials said Egon Berger-Waldes, negg, Austrian minister to Rome, will present credentials addressed to the King of Italy and the Emperor of Ethiopia.

Tonight's glittering banquet in Schoenbrunn palace closed a full day for the conferees, who included Dr. Guido Schmidt, foreign minister of Austria, in addition to Count Ciano and Von Kanya.

During five hours of formal and informal talks, they went over the international situation, leaving internal questions largely for the second and closing day of the conference tomorrow.

In some Austrian circles it was said Count Ciano received a cool reception from the populace on his arrival yesterday, in contrast to the ovations given other foreign visitors of comparable station.

The coolness was attributed to Austria's old enmity to Italy because Italy sided with the Allies in the World War against Austria and Hungary. It was reported the Minoriten church was heavily guarded by police when the conferees went to mass there, because of fears of an anti-Italian demonstration.

stock of drinkables, with axes. Some two dozen employees were arrested and later fined when they entered pleas of guilty to charges of operating a place in violation of the liquor and anti-gambling laws of the state.

At that time a receiver was appointed, but Sheriff Adams said last night the receivership had been dissolved some weeks ago.

Clay Reeves, of Biloxi, Miss., came to Atlanta and built the Casa Loma on property owned by the H. G. Moore's Estates, of which H. Grady Moore, of Conley, is administrator. It was reported that Reeves had leased the land on which the club was built for a term of five years, most of which is yet to run.

A recent administrator's sale, held at Jonesboro on November 8, did not affect the ownership of the building. It was stated last night, but was merely a technical sale to clear title to the land involved.

Attorneys for Reeves last night said he had insurance on the property at the time of its operation, but that the company carrying the policy canceled it after the raid and it had not been replaced.

BIG DOG BRINGS BABY TO LOUISIANA FAMILY

young hitch-hiking couple, suspected as being parents of the crying little bundle Mrs. Crawford retrieved from the jaws of the big dog. Sam Ferguson, of Pearl river, identified a torn blanket in which the dog carried the baby as one seen in the arms of a young hitch-hiking mother. The couple had a three-year-old girl, and a mongrel dog with them, Ferguson said.

The Crawford home is in the gloomy piney woods, half a mile from Pearl river. Mrs. Crawford was standing at the door of their small clapboard home when she noticed the big dog come trotting through the undergrowth.

"The dog had something white in its mouth," she said. "When he saw me, he stopped, and I was so scared all I could do was stand there."

"I looked hard but I couldn't see what the white thing was. I'd never seen the dog before. Most of them around here are hounds, and this one scared me. He looked like a black bulldog."

"Then while I was looking, the white thing moved and I heard a cry like a baby's. I got a cold chill."

"I ran off the porch and hollered. 'Put that down, you! Put that down! I was never more 'scared' in my life and I clapped my hands and made all the noise I could. I made like I was going to hit the dog. That 'scared' him off. He put the baby down and ran back into the woods," she said.

The baby was lying face down, wrapped in a dirty square of cotton cloth. The covering was wet on the back where the dog had carefully held the infant in his big paws. "The child had not had attention of a newborn."

Mrs. Crawford's husband first called a cousin, Alonzo Crawford, a police juror. News spread to the general store and the people called Dr. J. K. Griffith, neighborhood doctor and congressman-elect from this district.

Dr. Griffith sent a nurse to the cabin. Meanwhile, the young backwoods mother lighted a fire, got the house warm and wrapped the baby in warm woolens. She took warm milk from a can, diluted it, and in a bottle with a nipple that was left over from her own 2-year-old child, fed the infant Moses.

"I want to keep the baby," said Mrs. Crawford, though more than 50 other families in that part of the parish, believing more in miracles than in the struggle of a world that produces hitch-hiking, homeless wanderers, pleaded for him.

"I figure he's almost like a miracle, like Moses in the bullrushes, and I think we was meant to keep him," said the foster mother.

Mayor Key also has been invited to attend.

RED CROSS DRIVE HAS FINE OPENING

Roll Call Groups Over State Report - Enthusiastic Response.

With an evident determination to back up President Roosevelt in his appeal for generous responses to the 1936 Red Cross roll call, which started yesterday, chapter and roll call chairmen in nearly 150 Georgia cities reported a splendid opening of the campaign to Red Cross headquarters in Atlanta, with great interest and enthusiasm everywhere, and confidence that Georgia would exceed its membership quota of 48,000, leaders announced.

Pat Rice Jr., Augusta roll call chairman, wired that more than 200 workers sent a telegram to Admiral C. T. Grayson, American Red Cross chairman, in Washington, expressing their confidence in exceeding the August goal of 2,500 members. He reported a substantial part of the quota already raised.

From Columbus came word from J. Gordon Young, roll call chairman, that prospects for the most successful Red Cross drive in the history of the chapter with much of the quota already secured. "We are confident Muscogee county will lead the state in this year's Red Cross enrollment," he stated.

Mrs. Harrison Hightower, of Thomaston, roll call chairman, reported that the campaign was exceeding all expectations in Upson county, which could be counted on to go over the top.

Similar enthusiastic reports were also received from the following roll call chairmen: Marion Allen for Milledgeville and Baldwin county; George Montgomery for McDonough and Henry county; Marvin Pounds for Sparta, the chairman of the Athens chapter; Miss Virginia Brown, executive secretary of the Gainesville chapter; the Barnesville chapter and many others over the state.

Civic Theater Being Planned Here
Through WPA Group Co-operation

Non-Profit Organization To Be Perfected; Play Now in Rehearsal.

Conferences now in progress in Atlanta indicate the probability that, in the near future, this city will be able to boast a cultural asset long missing among local movements, a civic theater.

Present plans call for a combination of the resources of the Atlanta Theater Guild, local and non-professional group now in process of organization, and a professional, but non-profit making group operating under the federal theater project of the WPA.

Josef Lentz, field agent for the federal project, is in Atlanta conferring with Gilbert H. Boggs, director of women's and professional projects for the WPA, with a view to obtaining federal support for the local project, similar to financial support given other federal theater movements in approximately 38 states.

In the south, Mr. Lentz said yesterday, there are already a number of such projects operating. There is one in Alabama, at Birmingham, and seven in Florida and North Carolina, though Tennessee and South Carolina have not yet obtained an allotment.

The Atlanta Theater Guild is being organized by a group including Paul Causey, Julian H. Harris, Sara Thomas and Edwin Haas Jr. They have a play, "The Drunkard," in rehearsal now under the direction of Mrs. Causey and expect to announce the time and place for the presentation of the new project.

Should the federal theater project be secured for this state, the two movements would work in co-operation, both the professional and non-professional organizations giving their own productions. All receipts above the actual cost of salaries and expenses in the federal professional project are put back into the undertaking and it is entirely non-commercial in nature, Mr. Lentz stated.

He pointed out that it would provide for approximately 50 people now on relief, including janitors, players, director, ticket takers, ushers, stage hands, etc.

At the same time it would bring a new and vital cultural force into local civic affairs.

The Atlanta Theater Guild offers membership to all people interested in acting, stage designing, technical or directorial work. A meeting will be held this week for permanent organization, after responses have been received from a thousand invitation cards recently sent out.

An advisory board, already named, includes Henry Tompkins, J. J. Harvey, Mrs. Floyd McRae, Raymond Kline, Mrs. Murdoch Egan, Dr. W. W. McMillen, Guy Woolford, Walter Hill, George Lindner, General George Van Horn Moseley, Mrs. John M. Slaton and Edgar Neely.

English Debaters Can't Understand
Why Roosevelt Had Any Opposition

"President Roosevelt's election was the greatest victory for Democracy in 20 years, and we couldn't understand why anyone would want to run against him," was the way G. R. Young, English debater from the London School of Economics, summed up the recent United States election.

But his admiration for Roosevelt did not include all of American politics. "England thinks that the only American gangsters left are in politics," he said, "and to our spoils system, which we term corruption, would make us into a democracy."

Accompanying Young on a two-month debating tour of American colleges is Asher Sheffield, University of Wales and Birmingham student. Representing the National Union of Students in England, they upheld the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, that the American constitution is a menace to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness," against Emory University last night in Glenn Memorial auditorium.

The debate was a no-decision discussion. "Everyone wants to know how we like American women," said Sheffield, "and we haven't seen enough to form any opinions. All we have done so far is debate and follow your old custom of shaking hands."

They had decided, however, that southern girls were nearer the same level as upperclass English girls, and that they were far more skilled in the art of dressing and use of cosmetics.

"Basically, American girls are no prettier than English girls," declared Young, "but they take better advantage of their opportunities."

Both were struck with the lack of freedom given to college students. The unusual academic freedom in England was explained by Sheffield as due to a sense of responsibility instilled in English students at an earlier age, most college students living in private lodgings without any supervision.

BALL WILL NOT PRESS
PRISON CONDUCT QUIZ

Councilman To Await Later Date 'To Justify My Position.'

Alderman John W. Ball Jr., who had announced he would demand a meeting of the prison committee of city council to hear reports of misconduct against J. C. Ellis, prison superintendent, yesterday announced definitely he will not press the move at this time.

Councilman George B. Lyle, chairman, announced he will call a session if a demand is made.

It was reported Ball had decided to defer his demand because of the fact that three members of the committee have agreed privately that they will not attend, preventing a quorum.

Following is Ball's statement: "While I dislike to air the deficiencies of any employee of the city through the news columns, I nevertheless feel I should reply to the article carried in Atlanta newspapers Tuesday."

"It appears that a majority of the committee of council on prisons is absolutely satisfied with present conditions, and do not care for an investigation. It is, therefore, useless for me to present the affidavits attesting to the incompetency of my fellow councilmen, but these affidavits are being preserved until such time as I may be called upon to justify my position, or until the chairman sees fit to call a meeting of the committee."

MEETING DELAYED ON JURY PROGRAM

County Board To Await Full Session To Consider Presentments.

Meeting of the Fulton County Commission to consider recommendation of the September-October grand jury was postponed yesterday by Dr. Charles R. Adams, board chairman, until all the commissioners can be present.

Because of the absence of Commissioner Edwin F. Johnson and Clerk Frank R. Fling, who was engaged in Armistice Day programs, the commission could not use, especially the beneficial purpose of the construction of good highways, and yet will protect and safeguard the rights of owners of even the humblest homes from being coerced into surrendering them and being compelled to contribute more than their fair share to public improvements.

"We must give effect to rules which are well settled in jurisprudence of Georgia," the supreme court commented.

"These will not hamper the right of condemnors to take and appropriate private property to essentially necessary public use, especially for the beneficial purpose of the construction of good highways, and yet will protect and safeguard the rights of owners of even the humblest homes from being coerced into surrendering them and being compelled to contribute more than their fair share to public improvements."

Declaring the "Eddie Guyol murder case is by no means closed," Detective Lieutenant C. E. McCrary, yesterday said investigation of the case is still in progress and that other arrests will be made soon.

"Of course, we got the trigger man in the slaying of Y. Fluke," said Lieutenant McCrary, "but there are others involved, and we are determined to arrest those connected in any way with the murder."

Lieutenant McCrary said he "was not at liberty" to go beyond his announcement at this time.

Fluke was found guilty last week by a jury in Fulton superior court, and is under sentence of death in the electric chair December 11, for the murder of the Atlanta "bug" baron.

The Italian-American Club of Atlanta has made plans for an Italian spaghetti dinner from 12 to 2 o'clock Sunday at the West End Woman's Club, 1100 Cascade avenue, S. W. Mrs. S. A. Cefalu, chairman of the ladies' committee, announced yesterday.

In addition to the dinner, entertainment is slated until 5 o'clock.

JOSEPH BOYLAN RITES WILL BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for Joseph Boylan, retired Atlanta and Mobile businessman, will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at the Sacred Heart church, with the Rev. John Emmert officiating.

Mr. Boylan, who retired in 1919, died Tuesday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. M. J. Cole, of 1069 Rosedale drive, N. E., at the age of 88. He came to Atlanta in 1876, establishing a dry goods business here. In 1890, he removed the business to Mobile.

He will be in Oakland cemetery, under direction of Sam R. Greenberg.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, weak and the world looks pink.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mass bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It just forces the old, decayed, undigested food back into the bowels. It's like forcing a clogged pipe to flow freely and makagun feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else, etc.

MRS. HAROLD ESTES
DIES AT RESIDENCE

Wife of Prominent Business Executive Was Native of Scranton, Pa.

Mrs. Harold C. Estes, wife of the merchandise manager of the F. W. Woolworth Company here, and a prominent member of the Glenn Memorial church, died Tuesday night at the residence, 1422 Emory road, N. E.

Mrs. Estes, who had lived in this city for the past 10 years, was a native of Scranton, Pa. She was active in the Women's Missionary Society of the Glenn Memorial church and a member of the Azalea Garden Club.

Mrs. Estes was a graduate of Columbia University.

Besides her husband, surviving are two daughters, Misses Jane and Ruth Estes; her father, W. D. Gotshall, of Cocoa, Fla.; three sisters, Mrs. John H. Wahl, of Orlando; Miss Sally A. Gotshall, of Cocoa, and Mrs. George Williamson, of Elmhurst, Pa., and a brother, Eugene Gotshall, of Cocoa.

Funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the residence, with the Rev. Nat. G. Long officiating. Burial will be in Crown Hill cemetery, under direction of H. M. Patterson & Son.

GEORGIA MUST PAY FOR CONDEMNATION

Mere Abandonment of Project Not Permissible, High Court Rules.

The Georgia supreme court ruled yesterday the State Highway Department cannot abandon a road project after a property owner has been given a judgment in a condemnation action unless the amount is paid.

P. F. Harrison obtained a judgment for $2,231.50 against the highway department in the Bacon superior court, for condemnation of a strip through Harrison's property which the highway department sought for a purpose not made known.

After the judgment was obtained, the highway department did not appeal the case, and did not pay the judgment, apparently abandoning the project or seeking to get the land at lower price through delay in payment.

"We must give effect to rules which are well settled in jurisprudence of Georgia," the supreme court commented.

"These will not hamper the right of condemnors to take and appropriate private property to essentially necessary public use, especially for the beneficial purpose of the construction of good highways, and yet will protect and safeguard the rights of owners of even the humblest homes from being coerced into surrendering them and being compelled to contribute more than their fair share to public improvements."

SURVEY REVEALS GAIN IN FINANCES AT TECH

Federal Report Shows Improvement During Fiscal Year of 1935-36.

Georgia Tech was listed as one of more than 300 colleges and universities throughout the United States that reported to the office of education, United States Department of Interior, that the fiscal year 1935-36 was financially better than 1933-34.

Tech's receipts for the year 1933-34 were $468,832 and in 1935-36 were listed as $550,000. Expenditures at the school were reported at $361,941 in 1933-34 as compared to $497,097 in 1935-36.

The analysis is revealed through an office of education circular, "College Receipts and Expenditures, 1935-36," prepared by Henry G. Badger and Dr. Frederick J. Kelly. The survey shows increases ranged from 2.9 per cent in expenditures of 122 privately-controlled universities, colleges and professional schools attended by white persons, to 26.2 per cent of two negro schools. Average increases were 12.6 per cent.

Weekly Wage Increase Also To Benefit Workers in Atlanta.

Distribution of $91,000 bonus money will be made among General Motors' employees here December 18, directors of the company announced yesterday. In addition to the appreciation fund a weekly wage increase of $3.100 will also be made in Atlanta, they said.

The total of $3,100 weekly means a wage increase of 5 cents an hour to employees here and the bonus fund will give each worker from $35 to $80.

The weekly increase in pay roll by the company is expected to add $25,000,000 to the General Motors' wage list.

Calotabs Help Nature
To Throw Off a Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

Colonial Furnishings Predominate In Newlyweds' Lovely Apartment

By Sally Forth.

A COLONIAL footstool done in exquisite needlepoint with a rich burgundy red background, formed the nucleus around which charming Mrs. Irvin Willingham has furnished her Peachtree road apartment. The footstool was made by the young bride, and when she became engaged to Dr. Willingham, she decided that she would build her new home around this bit of handwork. The former Fort Scott Meador and her husband only recently returned from their wedding trip to Cuba, and last Tuesday they celebrated their first wedding anniversary of one month.

But to get back to the apartment. Upon entering, a visitor is immediately impressed with the homelike atmosphere. The deep red carpet is in charming contrast with the cream-colored walls. A cretonne-covered couch is an inviting piece of furniture, and is balanced on either end by handsome mahogany tables. Large lamps with china bases and cream-colored shades, cast a mellow glow over the room.

Opposite the couch is a beautiful Governor Winthrop secretary and a gold satin barrel-back chair. A Sheridan chest and three chairs complete the living room ensemble. Mrs. Willingham has employed her artistic talent in the placement of large white bowls, filled with colorful flowers which occupy vantage points in the room.

A coffee table placed in front of the couch, holds a potted plant and smoking accessories. An exquisite English print hangs over the couch, and on either side are attractive wall brackets upon which rest bowls filled with trailing ivy.

The Willingham dining room is furnished in Duncan Phyfe style and is featured by an oil painting of floral design which adds an effective note to the room. The young bride plans to have dark red draperies in the dining room, which will be in contrast to the cream-colored walls.

All the charm and beauty of colonial days is reflected in the boudoir which is furnished in early American pieces. The bed is covered with a beautiful cartwheel spread, made by the bride's mother, Mrs. Robert L. Meador. A small table holds a colonial lamp, a small radio and a photograph of Mrs. Meador. The antique bureau offset by two boudoir lamps carry out the colonial motif, as do the fluffy and airy curtains.

The new home of this popular bride and groom will be a charming rendezvous for their friends, many of whom have already left cards on the unique tray, made from the engraved plate of their wedding invitations, and it is finished in mahogany.

THE MacDougall clan assembled yesterday to pay homage to Mrs. Emily Fitten MacDougall, a beloved member, who celebrated her 37th birthday anniversary on Armistice Day. Mrs. MacDougall lives on Andrews drive and she entertained her immediate family at a dinner given at her residence.

Mrs. Frank Hardeman, Mrs. Edward Inman, Dan and Alex MacDougall are daughters and sons of this remarkable woman.

Mrs. Fred Sorrow Hostess at Parties.

Mrs. Fred Sorrow entertained 12 guests at a lovely luncheon yesterday at her home on Pine Tree drive, complementing her guest, Mrs. Hugh Kitchens, of Los Angeles, Cal., and Mrs. Harry Marshall, of Wilmette, Illinois.

The table in the dining room was covered with a real lace cloth and was centered with a basket filled with quantities of fall flowers carrying out the bright and colorful autumnal shades. On either end were candlesticks holding bronze burning tapers. Mrs. Sorrow was also hostess at a bridge-luncheon Tuesday at her home. The same decorations as yesterday's party were used and prizes were won by Mrs. W. P. Sloan and Mrs. William Dilts.

History Study Club.

The History Study Club met Tuesday with Mrs. P. M. Christian in Decatur. Mrs. J. R. Dunn, the president, introduced the speaker, Mrs. Albert Callaway, who talked on "Fascist Italy." The current event was given by Mrs. Leola Brown. Her subject was "Georgia's New Industries." Present were Mesdames A. U. Fairbanks, Pearl Witches, R. K. Jones, J. R. Dunn, Albert Callaway, John Aiken, Spencer Brewer, F. N. Fairbanks, Walter Pope, P. M. Christian and Leola Brown.

Mrs. Adams To Attend D. A. R. Meet Nov. 14

Mrs. John S. Adams, D. A. R. state regent, will be guest of honor Saturday at the meeting of the Atlanta Chapter, D. A. R., at Craigie House at 2:30 o'clock. The regent, Mrs. Moreland Speer, will preside and will present Mrs. Adams, who will speak on "Armistice Day."

An invitation has been extended to members of the Marietta, Forsyth, Conyers, Dalton and Newnan D. A. R. chapters to attend, in addition to all visiting daughters. It is of signal honor and importance for Mrs. Adams to attend the meeting of the Atlanta chapter and she will be accorded a sincere welcome by all.

A feature of the afternoon will be a musical program under the direction of Mrs. Henry Baker, who will present Miss Bernice Johnson, vocalist. After the program tea will be served by members of the hospitality committee of which Mrs. T. A. Lott is chairman. During her stay in Atlanta Mrs. Adams will be the guest of Mrs. Charles F. Rice at her home on Peachtree road.

Druid Hills Baptist T. E. L. Class Program.

More than 200 members and guests of Druid Hills Baptist T. E. L. Class enjoyed the 20th anniversary program presented in the class on Sunday morning. Edwin S. Preston, superintendent of the Sunday school, announced "The March of Time," and presented a history of the work of the class. Mrs. E. A. Smith, the president, read a birthday message from Miss Emma B. Browne, founder of the T. E. L. Class. Music was furnished by the choir directed by Mrs. Byron H. Mathews and Donald Banes, accompanied by Miss Virginia Durham, rendered a vocal selection. Assisting in the candle-lighting ceremony were Mary Jane Catron, Duanna Spohr, Helen Woodward and Marion Nellie Smith. Guests, former officers, teachers and members, and Mrs. Laura Eldenfield Moncrief, daughter of the late Mrs. W. N. Eldenfield, founder of the class in 1916. Flowers, grown by members and donated to the sick, and a birthday cake bearing 20 candles, led in the class colors, provided the colorful setting. Mrs. Mitchell W. Edwards taught the lesson.

Mrs. Taylor Honors Executive Board.

Use Mercolized Wax the Short Cut to a Beautiful Complexion

Most women like to cut their daily facial routine down to the minimum. So they prefer Mercolized Wax, because this simple home facial treatment is quick, effective, infinitely refreshing and altogether satisfactory. The woman who uses Mercolized Wax has won half the battle of preserving her youth. Mercolized Wax is the perfect all-purpose cream containing everything the skin needs to keep it fine-textured, smooth and evenly. Mercolized Wax sheds the dried cells of surface skin in minute particles, revealing the true loveliness of your under skin. Mercolized Wax brings out the hidden beauty of any skin.

Use Mercolized Wax daily. A refreshing, stimulating skin tonic. Smooths out wrinkles and age lines. Refines coarse pores. Eliminates oiliness. Dissolve Mercolized in one-half pint witch hazel. At all drug stores. (adv.)

Miss Lucille Edgeworth Oslin Will Wed Ira A. Palmore

An interesting affair of Saturday evening was the dinner given by Mrs. R. A. Grier at her home on Peachtree street, in honor of Miss Lucille Oslin, to announce her engagement to Ira Allen Palmore, of Richmond, Va. The date of the marriage will be announced later.

The bride-elect is the only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Edgeworth Oslin, of Atlanta, and Mr. Palmore is the son of the late J. D. Palmore and Mrs. Palmore, of Richmond, Va.

The table was covered with a fillet lace cloth and the central decoration was a silver bowl filled with white chrysanthemums. Yellow candles burned in silver candlesticks, and yellow baskets, with orange blossoms tied on the handles, held salted nuts. A miniature wedding party descended from the tiny, white altar to the place of the bride-elect.

Miss Oslin is identified with the Atlanta Writers' Club. Many of her poems have been published in poetry magazines and anthologies.

Seated at the bride-elect's table were Dr. W. F. Melton, president of the Atlanta Writers' Club, and Mrs. Melton; Misses Loretta Faucher, Frances Cheney and Edna Metz. Miss Oslin wore a gown of peach lace with rhinestone clips and Mrs. Grier was gowned in black velvet.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathews Observe Anniversary

PRATTSBURG, Ga., Nov. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. J. Brown Mathews celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their ancestral home here on November 4. The Rev. Virgil Culpepper read the marriage service for the couple, using the original license.

The reception rooms of the Mathews home were adorned for the occasion with huge bowls of golden chrysanthemums and dahlias. Many handsome gifts attested the popularity and esteem of the beloved couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Mathews were united in marriage on November 4, 1886, at the home of the bride's parents near Vysanti in Talbot county with the Rev. A. B. Moorehouse performing the ceremony. The children of the couple who were present at the celebration are Henry Frank Mathews, Mrs. W. F. Walker, Mrs. T. P. Collier Jr., Mrs. H. V. Williams, of Fort Valley, and Mrs. Henry T. Lumsden.

Mrs. Mathews chose for the occasion a gown of black silk lace and velvet and her flowers were a bouquet of sweetheart roses.

The guests were greeted by Miss Mary Mathews and Mrs. L. G. Parker. Mrs. Frank Shumate, of Atlanta, kept the bride's guest book. A program of music was given by Mrs. F. A. Ricks and Miss Florence Smith, of Reynolds, pianists, and Miss Frances Mathews, of Thomaston, and Mrs. R. H. Wilson, of Swarthmore, Pa., soloists.

A group of guests who were present for the original ceremony were seated for supper with the hosts at a beautifully appointed table in the dining room. The table was covered with a cloth of handmade lace and a program of music was given by Mrs. F. A. Ricks and Miss Florence Smith, of Reynolds, pianists, and Miss Frances Mathews, of Thomaston, and Mrs. R. H. Wilson, of Swarthmore, Pa., soloists.

Assisting in serving were Misses Gertrude and Louise Lumsden and Rose Williams, of Fort Valley, granddaughters of the hosts; Misses Mary Mathews, Laura Lumsden and Mrs. M. M. McClellan, of Thomaston. Others assisting in entertaining were Mesdames H. T. Carter, Frank Parker, H. C. Matthews, J. C. Looman, J. H. Woodall, of Woodland, and Mrs. L. P. Matthews, of Thomaston.

Ye Olde Friends' Club.

Ye Olde Friends Club was honored at a Halloween party recently at the home of Mrs. T. A. Hicks. Present were Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Council, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Vanderford, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Lewis, Mrs. Ollie Cochran, Mrs. M. E. Skelton, Misses Evelyn Barfield, Fay Council, Eva Cochran, Francis Gray, Rebecca Hicks, Margie Lee Pope, Pauline Mauldin, Eleanor Lewis and Claborn Hopkins, Claude Cochran, T. L. Skelton, George T. Lewis III, Kane Vanderford and P. T. Mauldin.

Young Matrons Visit Tallulah Falls School

The first pilgrimage of the season to Tallulah Falls Industrial school was held Tuesday by the Young Matrons' Circle. Fifty young women assembled at the school for luncheon and were greeted by the students, headed by Mrs. Z. L. Fitzpatrick, resident trustee and chairman of the school for the past four years. In the afternoon the visitors were entertained by pupils of the fourth grade in an Armistice Day play, depicting the futility of war, while the seventh grade children followed with a special art class, displaying the various colors and possible combinations of the spectrum. The program closed with singing of the school song, after which the visitors were conducted on a tour of the crafts exhibit, weaving, and basketry studios.

The event was arranged under direction of Mrs. Willard McBurney, president of the Young Matrons' Circle, and Mrs. Harrison Hines, chairman of the pilgrimage committee, with Mrs. John D. Duncan as co-chairman. Making the trip were Mesdames Willard McBurney, Harrison Hines, Fleming Law, Doll Ballard, Charles Marshall, W. W. Owens, George Bell, Jr., Blair Foster, N. S. MacEwan, George Griffin Jr., Karl D. Hartzell, Stephen T. Brown, S. Ross Brown, Dan Y. Sage, George K. Taylor Jr., Howard Dobs Jr., Roy G. Booker, Hal Dumas, Thomas Miller, R. L. Watkins, Forrest M. Barfield, R. F. Ingram, W. W. McFarlin Jr., W. E. Currie, E. C. Meyer, Turner Simpson, Clyde King Jr., George Sheffield, W. G. Bryant, J. W. Spears, A. J. Gorman, Harry L. Elynt and F. S. Chalmers. Guests included Mrs. H. H. Berry, of Atlanta; Miss Aldine Johnson, of Andersonville, and Mrs. Hardy Burt, of Washington, D. C.

TAKE WEIGHT OFF TIRED FEET

Loss Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

If your feet and ankles feel tired and ache all over—because you are carrying too much fat—do something about it. Try the treatment that has helped millions to reduce excess weight.

There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often times futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little gland is not working right.

All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. This fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace.

Now, physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks—and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out in this way.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same method used by doctors. So don't waste your time or money striving to reduce with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get a box of Marmola today from your druggist.

Mrs. Mary Hartson, delegate to the national convention, held in New York, reported on the meeting. Members will participate in the Armistice parade today.

Contract Bridge

Herewith is presented another portion of Mr. Culbertson's latest work on contract. "The Gold Book of Bidding and Play," which is being reproduced in this column in daily installments.

AFTER OPENING NO-TRUMP BID AND A RESPONSE OF THREE

After an opening no-trump bid and a response of three in a major suit the opener should now:

1. Show another four-card major if higher ranking.
2. Raise to four with any four trumps, or with three trumps headed by A K x, A Q x, K Q x.
3. Bid four no-trump with five honor tricks or slightly less, but with eight or nine honor cards.

Otherwise bid three no-trump.

When the responder bids four in a suit over the opening no-trump:

1. Pass a major suit.
2. Raise a minor suit to five with anything but a minimum.

The reader need not learn or remember all the minutiae and details in requirements given above. My object merely was to trace the workings of an expert player's mind and to point out how a single slip on a card, a slightly different complexion of the cards, or a stray guess often directs the selection of the final bid.

At the player's minute and shedding the four honor tricks and the 4-3-3-3 hand pattern. But, above all, the responder must understand the striking and profound differences among the various patterns that regulate the choice between the suit and no-trump.

TODAY'S HAND.

"My dear," said the portly man in a friendly manner, "although you play worked this time, please, when you are my partner, never finesse against me!"

As a kibitzer I listened expectantly for his partner's answer. Something about the lady's eyes and jaw line led me to believe that she would not take kindly to "instructions." I was not wrong. Left in doubt, and I thought her reply particularly fitting. At any rate, it certainly was succinct. All she said was: "Rats!" This was the hand.

Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding:

South West North East

1 club Pass 1 diamond Pass

1 heart Pass 2 diamonds Pass

2 no tr/p Pass 3 no tr/p (final bid)

The opening lead was the deuce of spades. Dummy played low and East, the woman who had said "rats," then made the play that evoked her partner's ire. Instead of putting up her queen like a little lamb she played the four spot. Declarer's eight won and the jack of diamonds was led and finessed "successfully." East, of course, holding up her king. Another diamond finesse now was won by East and the spade queen was led. Declarer won and attempted to enter dummy for its four good diamonds. Assisting the hosts were Mesdames Frank Ellis, Henry Newman and Jack Thiesen.

Atlanta Debutantes via THE ZODIAC by Bernice Denton Pierson

"Above the wheeling pole, and at heaven's door Look in, and see each blissful deity."

ROBYN PEEPLES.

March 30 marks the natal day of Robyn Peeples, lovely member of the Debutante Club, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Peeples.

This brings her birth date under the influence of the Zodiacal sign Aries, the sign of the warm-hearted, the frank and the generous. The planet Mars is the ruler of the sign, and is the planet of activity, energy, enterprise.

Interpreting this lovely belle's chart, the position of Jupiter confers riches, social qualities and positions of honor and trust.

The Sun-Neptune position endows her with breadth of vision, good taste, love of fine arts.

The Sun-Saturn position gives perseverance, tact and self-control.

The Venus-Mercury position bestows fertile imagination and deep emotions.

The Mars position gives executive talent and posts of responsibility.

The position of the planet Saturn gives high ideals, the planets at Saturn adds a broad sense of humanitarianism.

The Sun-Jupiter position becomes the promise of a happy and successful life.

Her colors are shades of blue, crimson and rose. Her stone is amethyst. Her flowers, those of the color of crimson and rose.

You can get your complete astrological forecast through The Atlanta Constitution, compiled by Bernice Denton Pierson, one of America's best known astrologers.

All you have to do is to fill in the coupon below, enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope, together with 10 cents in coin to cover the mailing cost. You will then receive through the mail certain pertinent facts which deal astrologically with the time of the time of your birth, called a Sun-chart, and with this Sun-chart, a series of numbers which will enable you to identify the planetary interpretations, which will be published in The Atlanta Constitution each day, dealing with the influence of a given planet on the day of your birth, according to the influence of the planets at the time of your birth. Your astrological forecast will be complete.

Below are planetary indications, according to the rules of astrology, one of which may apply to your forecast. Every day these interesting interpretations will be published, descriptive of the influence of the planets at the time of your birth. Your astrological forecast will be complete.

Miss Goss, Mr. Carter Honored at Party

Miss Ruth Goss and her fiancé, John H. Carter, whose marriage takes place this evening, were honor guests last evening at the buffet supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sidney Goss, parents of the bride, at their home in Ansley Park. The affair followed the wedding rehearsal and assembled 100 guests.

A feature of the affair was the cutting of the bride's cake, a custom which the bride's mother followed at her rehearsal when as Miss Ruth Goss she became the bride of Mr. Goss. Red roses were used to decorate the home, and the table in the dining room was covered with a real lace cloth and was centered by a large silver basket filled with red roses. Miss Goss was becomingly gowned in fuchsia velvet and her flowers were red roses.

Rain Hampers Tech as Practice Is Staged Large Indoors

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 11.—Waiting here for the American Legion meeting tonight and contemplating with some wonderment the error of those gentlemen in asking this corner down for a talk, the old mind wandered off on the subject of that old trapper, Frank Thomas.

Mr. Thomas is, according to reports, having more than moderate success this year with his trapping. He has several fine hides out drying in the mild November suns.

The old mouse trapper, as I have nicknamed Mr. Thomas, traps a lot of things in his trap for mice. He trapped a lot of Wildcats in the Kentucky game. It requires a very good mouse trap indeed to hold a wildcat, but Mr. Thomas' mouse trap is that sort of a mouse trap.

Last week in Birmingham he trapped a Green Wave. This is a severe test of any trap but the records will show that Mr. Thomas accomplished this little trick.

I think Mr. Thomas may have been reading Mr. Emerson. No one has proved it, but the general supposition is that it was Mr. Emerson who said that if a man built a better mouse trap than homo sapiens in large numbers would build a concrete highway to his door.

Mr. Thomas forgot to take out a patent on his mouse trap. And a lot of people are using it. He used the mouse trap play in the Rose Bowl game and some years before that.

And I see by the papers that Georgia Tech is preparing for the mouse trap. It would be most embarrassing for a Yellow Jacket to get caught in a mouse trap. But then a lot of funny things happen and Mr. Thomas has all sorts of hides drying in the mild November suns.

FRANK THOMAS.

SIMPLICITY IS STRENGTH.

The simplicity of the mouse trap play is its strength. The opposing guards, or tackles, usually the guards, are encouraged to come charging through. The way is opened for them. The cheese, disguised as a football player carrying the ball, is apparently all by itself.

But just as the mice are about to grab the cheese they find themselves cross-blocked by the No. 2 back and some of his friends. And the cheese, still speaking figuratively, goes on with the ball and the trapped mice beat their breasts and ask a just fate never to let them be such a sap again.

The trouble is, the mouse trap is such a gosh awful invention play, the mice go rushing in. The opposing man is bowled over or shoved out of the way. And the exulting mouse goes in after the cheese. Only to find his legs cut from under him and the heels of his pants striking the ground quite briskly.

Well, the old Tuscaloosa trapper has done more with the mouse trap play than anyone else. And you may expect to see it clanging on some of the Yellow Jackets on Saturday.

I do not say the mouse trap play will win the hall game at Grant field. The Yellow Jackets may even sting the mice. There is no telling. But anyhow, you may watch and see what the Tuscaloosa trapper achieves on Saturday.

ON TO NEW ORLEANS.

Down here at Columbus I find that quite a few of the Georgia alumni are planning to attend the Georgia-Tulane game at New Orleans on Saturday.

They think it typical Georgia luck that instead of catching a well-satisfied Tulane team, the Bulldogs will catch one which had its collective ears pinned back by Alabama last Saturday, and, therefore, may be expected to be on its collective toes this week. But then the Georgia luck is bad always. So far as I can recall, I never recall a Georgia or Georgia Tech team, for that matter, grabbing the fumble to win the game or inter-

BULLDOGS STOP TULANE PLAYS IN HARD DRILL

Jones, Cavan and Green Cavort in Scrimmage Against Red Devils.

By Felton Gordon.

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 11.—What chance has Georgia against Tulane Saturday?

"A great chance if the Green Wave is under par and if Georgia plays heads up ball," replied Coach Mehre after today's impressive offensive and defensive showing. Coach Enright interrupted with a query as to how much Tulane would have to be down.

That was left as a "moot" question. Tulane's blocking which drew considerable recognition in the Colgate tilt, is drawing much concern in the Bulldog quarters. Ends spent a major portion of the early drills in coping with a ball carrier behind a screen of three blocking backs. The varsity on defense after the first play or so stopped the Red Devils with no more than 15 yards gain in 15 plays. Johnny Jones, Jim Cavan and Maurice Green later carried the ball with ease. Large holes were invariably formed in the line, but down field blocking was poor.

Harry Harman saw his first scrimmage service for two weeks. He has been resting since the Tennessee game due to a pulled muscle.

Buddy Milner, gritty midget from Albany, was running at second-string center in today's workout. He was substituting for Bob Law who was suffering with a slight headache. Trainer C. W. Jones says Law will be able to play Saturday, however.

The genial Bulldog trainer had a light day. During the trying times when the injury scythe was running rampant through the camp he worked overtime. For the first time in at least a month he had no cares on his hands tonight.

"The boys are in pretty fair condition," is the way he puts it. Bill Hartman and Harry Stevens, both with bruised hips, will call for attention.

Tulane's record includes five victories, a tie and a defeat. The Greenies beat Ole Miss, 7-6; Auburn, 9-0; Centenary, 19-0; Colgate, 28-6; North Carolina, 21-7; Louisiana Poly, 22-13; tied and lost to Alabama, 7-34. They are tied with Tennessee for fifth place in the conference standings.

In the 10-game series with the Bulldogs, the Wave holds a one-game edge. The fullbacking for the Crimson Tide Saturday after the Alabama debacle.

Bryan, Mattis and Andrews, back-field stars; Tull, center, and Dirnmann, end, still shaken up from the Alabama battle, did not take part in the scrimmage.

Wave Tries Out New Combination.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The Tulane University Greenies went through their first scrimmage in three weeks today under the watchful eyes of Coach Lowell "Red" Dawson.

Dawson has been trying out new combinations at end and in the back-field this week in preparation for the game at Georgia Tech on Saturday.

Bryan, Mattis and Andrews, back-field stars; Tull, center, and Dirnmann, end, still shaken up from the Alabama battle, did not take part in the scrimmage.

University, Ala., Nov. 11.—A senior and a sophomore will handle the fullbacking for the Crimson Tide Saturday when it engages the Engineers of Georgia Tech in Atlanta.

Bubber Nisbet, captain of the Tide charges, is the veteran of Coach Frank Thomas' fullbacks. Bubber is one of the best leaders in the country.

Captain Nisbet is an excellent leader of the Alabama team. This has been demonstrated by the performance of the Capstone eleven when the general was not on the field.

His record in plunging the line is not anything to boast of. He has been a consistent ball carrier. He has averaged 3.7 yards per try at carrying the ball.

Another outstanding characteristic of the Tide leader is that he can stand the pressure. He has played 60 minutes in two of the games this year, and the great fullback has lugged the ball for many times as any of the 'Bama backs.

Charlie Holm, brother of Alabama's former All-American fullback, Tony Holm, is the sophomore to aid Bubber in busting the line. Charlie was very effective in spring training last year, but he has been bothered with injuries this year. Early in the season he bruised his heel, and now the big fullback is suffering with a broken hand.

Charlie runs like his brother, fast and with his knees flying high and dangerous. He is a big, rugged boy, weighing 186 and standing six feet tall.

Nisbet has scored 12 points this season to the sophomore's six. Both were very effective against the Greenies of Tulane last Saturday.

Bubber hails from Bainbridge, Ga., while Charlie is from Birmingham, Alabama.

Georgia Tech will have a tough job of it when it meets the Tide on Saturday.

SALE OF BROWNS TO BE DISCUSSED BY CLUBS TODAY

American League Mag-nates Will Also Go Into Radio Problem.

By George Kirksey.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—(UP)—American league club owners have been summoned to a special session here tomorrow to consider the purchase of the St. Louis Browns by a St. Louis syndicate headed by Donald L. Barnes.

Sale of the Browns' franchise by the Phil Ball estate virtually has been closed, but awaits the approval of the American league and the courts.

The syndicate must convince the club owners that there are no entangling alliances existing with the St. Louis Cardinals, who own the Cardinals, and the Cardinals with the deal because of the prominent part played by Branch Rickey, business manager of the National league club in the negotiations.

If the Browns sale goes through as expected, it will be the second American league club to be sold within recent years. Tom Yawkey purchased the Boston Red Sox at the end of the 1932 season in a deal involving more than $1,000,000. The purchase price of the Browns is reliably reported at $325,000.

The syndicate buying the Browns is said to be composed of 10 stockholders who are putting up $40,000 each. The plan is to raise another $100,000 by selling stock in the Browns to the fans at $5 a share. Under this plan the Browns will have a surplus of $175,000 for the purchase of new players to strengthen the club.

Dewitt, however, will have to sell his stock in the Cardinals and sever all his National league ties in order to have an excellent chance to claim the Sam Breadon, owner of the Cardinals, will purchase Dewitt's stock as soon as the Browns' deal is approved, it is said.

Rogers Hornsby is expected to remain as manager of the Browns, but will have to work under a new contract which will pay him straight salary instead of a salary and a percentage of the profits from gate receipts. Since Hornsby has been manager of the Browns have shown no profit at the gate, although Hornsby's attendance last year dropped to 92,000.

In addition to the Browns' deal, the magnates will once more go into the troublesome radio problem. An agreement was reached last week among the announcers, preventing them from voicing opinions or criticizing decisions of umpires, managers and official scorers.

GOULD 'ACCEPTS' $400,000 OFFER FOR LOUIS BOUT

Broadway Scoffs at 'Tentative Match'; Favors Schmeling.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Joe Gould, manager of James J. Braddock, the heavyweight champion, said tonight he had tentatively accepted an offer for Braddock to meet Joe Louis, Detroit promoter, was quoted in Atlantic City, February 22 in a 12-round no-decision bout.

Gould said Braddock was guaranteed $400,000 by Herman (Mugsy) Taylor, Philadelphia promoter, who plans to stage the bout in Atlantic City's convention hall which has a seating capacity of 45,000.

"I am under contract with Madison Square Garden to fight Max Baer for the title next June," Gould said, "but since the Garden seems to want to sidetrack Schmeling in favor of Joe Louis, I am willing to go ahead and fight Joe Louis. That's too much dough to pass up."

DOESN'T WANT LEWIS. "Even if the New York Boxing Commission sanctioned a Braddock-John Henry Lewis match, it wouldn't draw peanuts and everyone knows it," Jimmy Johnson, Madison Square Garden promoter, was quoted in London as saying he favored a Braddock-John Henry Lewis fight. Lewis retained his light-heavyweight championship by outpointing Len Harvey in London Monday.

"However, nothing has been signed and there will have to be plenty of preliminary negotiations before anything is definite," Gould added.

Mike Jacobs, 20th Century Club promoter, who has both Joe Louis and Schmeling under contract, said he would approve the Atlantic City bout for Louis.

"All I am interested in is that the winner agree to fight Schmeling next June," Jacobs explained. "I am sure both Louis and Braddock would welcome that chance. I talked with Joe's manager today and they are willing and anxious to fight Braddock as soon as possible."

PHILAN NOT PERTURBED. Chairman John J. Philan of the New York State Athletic Commission, did not appear to be concerned about the proposed match.

"Joe Gould told me no later than Tuesday that Braddock would not sign for any matches before fighting Schmeling unless our commission proved them. Just what our attitude would be, I cannot say until the matter is brought before us officially."

Along Broadway tonight, the belief prevailed Gould is merely trying to make the Garden forget the John Henry Lewis idea.

The fact the champion is sized to meet Schmeling in June together with the fact Gould has promised not to make any other contracts in the meantime except with the approval of the New York commission seems to say the probability of the champion fighting in Atlantic City or anywhere else until he faces Schmeling.

ROXBOROUGH EXPECTS To Sign Today.

DETROIT, Nov. 11.—(AP)—John Roxborough, co-manager of Joe Louis, said here tonight it was his understanding plans had been made to sign the champion tomorrow for a match between the "Brown Bomber" and Heavyweight Champion Jimmy Braddock at Atlantic City February 22.

"We're ready to sign, and all that remains is for Braddock to accept the offer," Roxborough said. "In a sense it isn't a championship bout, but Joe can win the title if he knocks out Braddock, and that's what he hopes to do."

The Detroit fighter's manager said he believed technical angles of the fight would be cleared up by conferences during the night and that the articles would be signed.

A REAL ESTATE GAG. Of course, the Rose Bowl is not a logical enterprise. It isn't a football game at all, but a real estate gag, designed to advertise the health-giving infra-red and ultra-violet properties of California sunshine and the fair name of California itself. At no time have its sponsors ever hesitated to snub a good team in favor of a less deserving one, if the latter team fitted in better with the requirements of the Chamber of Commerce.

This year the choice of Fordham to represent the east is excusable on other than commercial counts. Fordham's ball team probably is better than Marquette's, though I admit I haven't seen Marquette play and possess no authority for making that statement.

Alabama, with plans of her own for the winter, seems reconciled to at least one year of abstinence from California. Santa Clara plays a late game with Texas Christian in which her perfect record may well be marred.

GOOD CHOICE. So Fordham is not a bad choice, and neither is Washington, the likely winner of the Pacific conference title. The Raines was a real problem for the classic 25-year-old champion is considered a sure thing by those fans who have seen him bowl with his savage tactics. Raines will weigh near 240 pounds to 210 for the titleholder and when it comes to roughing, he is second to none.

Another outstanding figure on the card is Hans Steinkile, the German Oak. He has been among the first 10 for a dozen years, has the 240-pound, 6 feet 4 blond giant. His opponent on the opener is Swede Anderson, wrestling's rubber man.

Sun Jennings and Cliff Theide are semi-finalists.

DETTON WILL BE making his first appearance in the south. His will be the hardest task ever offered a mat champion in Atlanta. In fact, there are many who think Raines will go to town.

JACKETS GIVEN GOOD PRE-VIEW OF TIDE PLAYS

Alexander Ailing But Keeps Plugging; Scrimmage Set Today.

By Jack Troy.

If Georgia Tech players follow the lead of Coach W. A. Alexander they may stay on their feet this Saturday and get at least a draw.

Coach Alex, sick with the flu and running a temperature which persistently sticks around 102 degrees, is still on his feet directing the team in practice for the Alabama game.

Pelting rain was responsible for the Jackets spending most of yesterday afternoon indoors peering at a comprehensive preview of Tide plays as illustrated by the "Bee" team.

It was a stationary drill for the varsity, with the Bees going through the staggering assortment of Alabama plays in slow motion.

For illustrative purposes, the drill could not be beat. But there's nothing quite like the actual demonstration in scrimmage.

TECH WAS scheduled to hold the big defensive scrimmage of the week yesterday, but the weather turned off so badly that Coach Alex allowed the players to remain outdoors for only a short time. They ran through signals following the indoor showing of Alabama formations.

Coach Alex remained in the dressing room while the players ran signals under the direction of Coach Bobby Dodd and Mack Thomas.

Much as he wanted to be out there, Coach Alex was advised against it. He is really a sick man. But he's going to be there. And that's the word of coach, after all, that he'll be there on his feet through thick and thin.

Tech will scrimmage today, weather permitting. Otherwise, weather must prepare the hard way. Which is to say, they would have to forego needed outdoor work against the tricky formations of the Red Elephants from Tuscaloosa.

NEEDED WORK. The rain of yesterday really was a setback for the Jackets. They needed the work outdoors. The same sort of weather again today would be somewhat disastrous.

Coach Jack Meagher (Auburn) thinks all of Tech, one reads in The Birmingham News, has been quoted this week as saying he thought Tech was about as fine a football team as Auburn has played all year. He warned Alabama to look out. With plenty of courage, The Crimson were quick to show they hadn't come to Legion field to take a thrashing. And most everybody took a thrashing. The Crimson were going to get a real going after the first three minutes of play.

GREAT PERIOD. "The fact of the matter is that Tulane scored once and Alabama scored twice was one of the greatest chapters of football ever unfolded in southern football. In the periods have ever had more crammed into 15 minutes of play than the opening period here Saturday.

Frank Thomas has always brought his team on slowly. He tried to build a strong defense before building a varied attack. This fall he had to spend an unusual amount of time on the line in bitter rivalry. The end, a center and a block of sophomore backs. And it takes time to get blocking, and without blocking a football team is hopeless.

"Alabama has little time to bask in the Tulane victory. Georgia Tech, madder than a hive of hornets, is waiting over in Atlanta to take the Crimson down in bitter rivalry. The Crimson will have to have as much desire to win as last Saturday or be prepared to enter the crying room with hundreds of omelette heads that have been upset this fall."

It would seem that a real battle is coming up on Saturday, which is homecoming for Tech.

Some may not like the term Red Elephants, as applied to Alabama. The Crimson have had as many nicknames, almost as Joe Louis, Babe Ruth and other great figures of sport. Whatever you call 'em, they're red streaks in the sunset. And the power they generate lends to the belief they must be men of might and mighty tonight.

Coach Frank Thomas and his Tuscaloosa trippers, toasted on every hand as Rose Bowl favorites, arrive in Atlanta Friday noon. The final on-game workout will be held on Grant field.

TIDE ARRIVES Friday Afternoon.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Nov. 11.—(AP)—A cold wind and drizzling rain hampered football practice here today, but the Crimson will have to have as much desire to win as last Saturday or be prepared to enter the crying room with hundreds of omelette heads that have been upset this fall."

Southern Stars Prominently Mentioned as All-Americans

RILEY AND WHITE OF CRIMSON TIDE COME WITH RUSH

Ace Parker, Wally Gilbert, Tinsley, Hitchcock Running Strong.

By Alan Gould.

OHIO, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Armed Day finds no trace in this year's All-American debate, now in the stage where the critical arguments are being set forth on behalf of the best brains and brawn in the college gridiron can produce.

The weekly roundup reveals a conspicuous number of new figures, a rise or fall in the stock of some of the old, and a generally abundant evidence that it's going to be no easier than usual to put the finger on the entire All-American squad of 23, let alone the mythical starting eleven for 1936.

The last few weeks, with the pressure on and traditional rivalries taking the spotlight, may develop fresh complications but it's already the toughest kind of a proposition trying to pick the four best backfield men in this season's rapidly maturing crop.

ACE PARKER.

Still much in the vanguard, for the fifth consecutive week, are such standouts as Nebraska's Sam Francis, outstanding in the Huskers' decisive victory over Kansas; Don Henp, who entered in another great all-around job as Northwestern's weathered barage of Wisconsin passes; Ace Parker, the versatile Duke captain Dixie No. 1, candidate, and Marquette's Ray Buvard, despite the fact he yielded the heroics to his teammate, Art Guepe, in a close call for the Golden Avalanche against Creighton.

Close on the heels of these stars and picking up momentum in the stretch are Sammy Baugh, Texas Christian star, who had another sensational afternoon as the Frogs defeated Texas; Andy Uram, the best of Minnesota's covey of ball-carriers; Franny Murray, Pennsylvania captain who had a great all-around day against Michigan, picking up 108 yards in 11 tries, and Joe Riley, central figure in Alabama's startling rout of Tulane, who gained 168 yards from scrimmage.

Hobby Wilson, of Southern Methodist, was a Southwest All-American star last season but Texas scouts now label Baugh "the best all-around player in conference history." Murray has been a standout in Penn's big comeback but Lew Elverson has grabbed a share of the headlines and there are few deadline tacklers or blockers in the east this year than the Quaker fullback, Bill Kurlich. Riley, one-time understudy for Dixie Howell, has made Alabama adherents forget the 1935 Rose Bowl hero for the time being and focus interest on his chances of helping the Crimson Tide play at Pasadena next New Year's day.

Pittsburgh's Marshall Goldberg, rated one of the year's best sophomores, will get his final jig test this Saturday against Nebraska, with Lloyd Cardwell and Sam Francis the yardsticks by which to measure his ability. Similarly Army's versatile Monk Meyer will be put under expert scrutiny against Notre Dame this Saturday at the Yankee stadium while a Yale reception committee, headed by Captain Larry Kelley awaits the further exploits of the Princeton backfield candidates for All-Star consideration, Jack White and Ken Sandbach.

BILLY HITCHCOCK. Other backs on this week's honor, including several repeaters, comprise: Guckeyson, Maryland; Ingram, Navy; Brandstatter, Michigan State; Stanley, Williams; Funk, U. C. L. A.; Kitchey, Texas A. & M.; Joe and McDonald, Ohio State; Hitchcock, Auburn; "Whizzer" White, Colorado; Ryan, Utah State; Elder, Kansas State; Russell, Baylor; Gurske, Fordham; Robbins, Arkansas; Vickers, Rice, and King, Hobart.

There's no difficulty spotting Yale's versatile end, Kelley, in the All-Star lineup again, as a result of his exploits against Brown, Louisiana State's Gwynell Tinsley turned in another fine all-around performance against Mississippi State. One of Cornell's sophomores, Bud Holland, was a standout against Princeton. Holland was shifted to end after starting the season as a blocking back. John Kewach, one of the heroes of Northwestern's victory over Minnesota, had another big day, against Wisconsin.

TARZAN WHITE. Notable additions to the list of outstanding guards this week include Les Schreiber, of Northwestern, a converted tackle now rated by coaches as one of the best defensive guards in the Big Ten; Tarzan White, powerhouse in Alabama's line, and Nat Pierce, the "Pepper Martin" of Rodham's magnificent line, and Washington's Max McGraw, rated the Pacific northwest's best lineman. They join an array already including Joe Routh, of Texas A. & M., a real standout in the southwest; Bill Montgomery, Princeton captain, and Bill Glassford, Pittsburgh leader.

Auburn's Wally Gilbert didn't impress coast critics, against Santa Clara's unbeaten aggregation but he is still rated No. 1 among the south's good crop of centers. This list includes Myers, of Kentucky; Stewart, of Louisiana State, and Hinkle, of Vanderbilt.

Godby and Ettore In 10-Round Draw

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Arturo Godby, Chilean heavyweight champion, fought a hard fight tonight to hold Al Ettore, Philadelphia puncher, to a 10-round draw before a gallery of 3,500 in the New York hippodrome.

Mann in Memphis For League Meet

Earl Mann, president of the Cracker, left Atlanta early Wednesday to attend the Southern League baseball meeting which is scheduled to open Friday morning in Memphis. Mann was on hand a day ahead of time to collaborate with other moguls on several of the proposals to be discussed at the meeting.

The directors of the clubs are reported to be in favor of retaining the Shaughnessy play-off plan, and opposed to continuation of the Dixie series, which has been a financial burden. Additional reward may be proposed for the Shaughnessy winner.

PATRICK CONSIDERED FOR NEW POSITION

Petrel Mentor May Get Post at Good Southern School.

By Jack Troy.

The athletic director of a well-known southern institution of higher learning was in our town this week shopping around for a new football coach.

Among others, he sought a full report on young Coach John Patrick, of Oglethorpe.

The report he received on Patrick was most satisfactory. He learned, among other things, that Patrick with no assistants and only 18 football players when the Petrel squad is at full strength, has won some notable victories.

Fact of the matter is Oglethorpe walloped Emory and Henry when, apparently, it had no business doing it. The Erskine game was not supposed to be won. But it was.

Then there was the Alabama State Teachers game and the Newberry game. Oglethorpe won them both.

GOOD RECORD. The Petrels record, with one coach and 18 players, is four won and three lost. Western Kentucky, with a fine squad and favored by overwhelming odds, barely beat the Petrels, 6 to 0, last week.

Patrick, the one-man coaching staff, has won moral as well as actual victories.

Against Mercer and Chattanooga, Patrick's team scored first. But they were up against reserves so superior, coupled with the fact they really had none of their own, that a loss, in the

Texas Seeks Low-Salary Coach

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Speculation was rife today concerning a successor to Jack Chevigny, who will retire February 1 as head football coach at University of Texas.

But only this much was certain—Chevigny's successor won't be high-salaried.

"Because of the present setup at the university, we will not be able to pay a top price," said Luther Stark, chairman of the board of regents.

"We likely won't be able to interest Dana X. Bible, of Nebraska," Ray Morrison, of Vanderbilt; Tiny Thornhill, of Stanford, or some of the other top-ranking coaches."

Chevigny, former assistant to the late Knute Rockne at Notre Dame, announced his retirement last night. J. C. Dolley, chairman of the athletic council, said that no applications had been received. He said he expected the matter to come before the council Monday but no immediate action was expected.

Chevigny is completing his third year as football coach here. His team placed second in the Southwest conference and defeated Notre Dame, 7-6, in his first year. Last year the Longhorns shared the cellar with Texas A. & M. and this season have lost their four conference titles thus far.

Clay Littlefield, former head coach and now freshman football and track mentor here, and Ted Twomey, Chevigny's chief assistant, were prominently mentioned by enthusiasts as Chevigny's successor.

Recreation Center Formally Opened

More than 200 people attended the formal opening of the Salvation Army recreation center at 314 Washington street last night.

The new gym was officially opened by P. J. Puzos, head of the Southern Salvation Army. Morgan Blake delivered a short talk. Bryan Grant and Charlie Yates were among the sports celebrities in attendance.

The two-story building is equipped with showers, lockers, and game rooms. It provides a home court for the first time for teams of the Salvation Army, who hitherto have had to practice on borrowed courts. Adjutant Richard Burton is in charge of the center.

The Temple five defeated Training College, 11-10, and the Bandhead squad beat Fulton, 19-14, in exhibition games put on by Salvation Army basketball teams.

Ten boys' teams and ten girls' teams will be sponsored this season.

E. R. Bradley's Horse Takes Pimlico Race

BALTIMORE, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Brooklyn, E. R. Bradley's 2-year-old bay colt, went to the front just after the start of the thirty-first running of the $7,500 added Wadsworth handicap at Pimlico today and held that lead to win by a length going away, leaving the favored Clodion seventh in a field of eight.

It was a race for outsiders—as all others here today proved to be. Brooklyn paid $8.50 to $2. A crowd of 12,000 was on hand for the closing day.

Miss Mary Hirsch's No. 2, 2-year-old brown gelding, was second, a length back of Brooklyn, with Yellow Tulip, owned by Bomar stable, a fourth of No. Sir. Night Bud was fourth.

JOHN PATRICK.

final analysis, was inevitable. Oglethorpe has the best record in state football, and the credit belongs to John Patrick. As a handler of a squad of limited material, his record is tops.

As a teacher of offense and defense, his record speaks for itself. The double spinners and the tricky double and triple reverses are masterpieces of coaching.

HAS DONE WELL. The big idea is this: Patrick has done a great job with practically no material. His coaching is very, very sound. So what would happen if he were given an opportunity to work with some real material and had the cepting a pass in the last moment to win. That always happens to the other team.

So, Georgia will be meeting a raging, rampant Tulane team on Saturday. But win or lose, the Bulldogs will do well. It was on arrival here that I thought back on the Georgia-Auburn game. It was played here a little more than two weeks ago.

I don't think I ever saw a more striking demonstration of the knowledge of football than was displayed by Harry Mehre that afternoon. He changed his defense three times and finally dammed up an Auburn tidal wave which, for the first 15 minutes, engulfed the Bulldogs.

Mr. Frank Foley is going to the New Orleans game. He really shouldn't go. But it seems he has a client there and the gentleman can't be seen at any time but Saturday afternoon. The client has a seat at the football game, and while it pains Mr. Foley exceedingly, he will have to go and sit beside his client. He intends to talk nothing but business and will not look at the game.

TECH'S OUTLOOK.

They are keeping a death watch on the Tech team for the Alabama game. They are giving seven and 12 points. I would just like to ask the boys if they have any memory at all.

They might hark back to just three seasons ago when an Alabama team, which was much more of a favorite than the one of this year, was defeated by six points.

Tech is in the best shape of the year since the Kentucky game for this contest. There seems to be some argument about that point and the foregoing statement is just a personal belief. The report is the Techs are crippled. They may be. But I doubt if the injuries are anything the well-known whistle medicine won't cure.

That should be quite a football game on Saturday at Grant field. Alabama is my choice to win by a narrow margin. But hasn't the weather been terrible this year?

COMMANDER FOLEY.

The Legion, apparently, has lost none of its ability to endure hardships and ordeals. However, it would not be surprising were Commander Charles Foley listed among the missing tomorrow. He is also head of the program committee.

RAIN HAMPER TECH PRACTICE

Coach Frank Thom's sent his Alabama squad out into the slush for a brisk, if brief, workout.

Further drill against Georgia Tech's "razzle dazzle" formations and a few minutes of practice on offensive passing were included.

Alabama players will board special sleepers here Thursday night, and will arrive in Atlanta at noon Friday.

Henry Cochrane, first reserve quarterback, was limping from a leg injury received in scrimmage, but is expected to be ready by Saturday.

Oz' Simmons Quits Iowa Football Squad

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Nov. 11.—(UP)—Ozzie Simmons, star negro fullback on the University of Iowa football team, turned in his suit tonight because of a dispute with Coach Ossie Solem.

"I am through with football," Simmons said. "I am not going back. I have taken too much abuse this season because of Iowa's failure. I've taken more punishment than I did in my sophomore year and Solem has been screaming at me."

Young Coach Has Done Great Job With Limited Material.

assistance of a competent line or backfield coach, to boot?

The athletic director, aforementioned, put Patrick high up in the list of those considered. And it may be that a most deserving young coach will get the big break here the autumn leaves start falling next year.

The understanding is that Patrick, should he get the job, will seek Harry Robertson, former Petrel coach, as his chief aide.

Patrick played under Robertson at Oglethorpe, of course. And he was Robertson's assistant for one year.

The very first year Oglethorpe installed double spinners at Patrick's insistence. Few teams show a trickier offense than the Petrels.

UNUSUAL SITUATION. It would be a rather unusual situation, that is, for a former assistant to offer his former superior a position. But it is what Patrick likely would do.

And Robertson, who has been shopping around for a head man's position, would accept it as good as you will find among the smaller schools.

PURPLES RATED SLIGHT CHOICE OVER SMITHIES

Return to Form of Injured Backs Gives Boys' High Edge Friday.

By Roy White.

Tech High and Boys' High will go into secret work today in the final preparation for their annual city championship scrap Friday night at 8 o'clock at Ponce de Leon park.

Both Coach Doyal, of Boys' High, and Coach Tolbert, of Tech High, have planned a long blackboard drill in addition to more than two hours of secret practice. The secret work will be done entirely to perfect some new plays, which have not been used this season.

And since both teams practice within a stone's throw of each other and can be seen from the hillside, their plays are well known to each other, making the secret work necessary to perfect the new plays.

STARS READY.

Boys' High, unbeaten since Tech High won 6 to 0, late in the 1935 season, but tied twice, jumped into the foreground as a favorite Wednesday when it became known that Oresten, Sabo and Gore will be able to start in the backfield.

And those persons who follow high school football close, are conceding a one-touchdown advantage to the Purples. But a 10-touchdown margin would mean practically nothing when Boys' High battles Tech High, so keen has been the rivalry.

The games are always close with only six in the 23 years of competition being decided by more than two touchdowns. Five games have been won by field goals, with not a single tie ever being recorded.

SHELDON AILING.

Only Brooks Sheldon, Boys' High center, is on the ailing list sufficient to keep him out of the game and it is entirely probable that he will play, if needed.

Plaster is the only casualty on the Tech High squad, and he also will likely play.

And here are the teams' records:

MONROE PLAYS Red Devils Friday

MONROE, Ga., Nov. 11.—The University of Georgia Red Devils, the unheralded heroes of Sanford stadium, will play Red Barron's Monroe Aggies on Barron field in Monroe Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Golden Aggies showed Monroe fans a fighting team last Friday as they lost to the heavier and more experienced Georgia Tech Bees by 1 point. The score of this game was 19-13. The Monroe team stopped Tech three touchdowns in the first half; they fought back in the final period to score their points.

After the Georgia game, Red Barron's Golden Monroe team will prep for the south Georgia state game to be played on the homecoming day program in Douglas.

On Thanksgiving Day, Monroe will celebrate homecoming by playing their annual game with Riverside on Barron field in Monroe.

Crockett To Undergo Appendectomy Today

Louis Crockett, halfback on the Georgia Tech team, yesterday entered a local hospital for the removal of his appendix.

The operation is scheduled today. Hospital attaches declared last night. Crockett, a promising halfback, injured a knee early in the season. He was then a member of the varsity team. The injury kept him out of action for two months and he returned to the squad as a member of the B team.

Tuesday Crockett injured his knee again and a short time later complained of a pain in his side. It developed that he had appendicitis.

The plan is to have him undergo an operation for appendicitis and during the time he is in the hospital, have the knee operated on, too. His troubles, then, should be over, and he could get a fresh start in football next spring.

By Roy White.

Tech High and Boys' High will go into secret work today in the final preparation for their annual city championship scrap Friday night at 8 o'clock at Ponce de Leon park.

Both Coach Doyal, of Boys' High, and Coach Tolbert, of Tech High, have planned a long blackboard drill in addition to more than two hours of secret practice. The secret work will be done entirely to perfect some new plays, which have not been used this season.

And since both teams practice within a stone's throw of each other and can be seen from the hillside, their plays are well known to each other, making the secret work necessary to perfect the new plays.

STARS READY.

Boys' High, unbeaten since Tech High won 6 to 0, late in the 1935 season, but tied twice, jumped into the foreground as a favorite Wednesday when it became known that Oresten, Sabo and Gore will be able to start in the backfield.

And those persons who follow high school football close, are conceding a one-touchdown advantage to the Purples. But a 10-touchdown margin would mean practically nothing when Boys' High battles Tech High, so keen has been the rivalry.

SHELDON AILING.

Only Brooks Sheldon, Boys' High center, is on the ailing list sufficient to keep him out of the game and it is entirely probable that he will play, if needed.

Plaster is the only casualty on the Tech High squad, and he also will likely play.

And here are the teams' records:

As Tarzan held her high above his head, mingled emotions raced and whirled through the heart of Queen Zala. She was enraptured by the touch of his strong hands; yet she was furious that she was in his power. In another moment he might hurl her to death!

The ape-man, however, was bluffing. His primitive, beast-like instinct drew little distinction between the sexes, nor was he addicted to the banalities of conventional civility, but his long heritage of civilization would not allow him to kill a woman.

The monsters stood stock still in astonishment, but Togatzal, the Medicine Priest, set up a great howl. Tarzan judged that he was bewailing the dilemma in which his tribe had been placed, but actually his cries were more practical. They were calling aid!

In utter peace a new band of monsters appeared in answer to Togatzal's summons. Slipping along the corridor from some further chamber of the underground maze, they launched themselves savagely upon Tarzan from behind and bore him down. Now all hope was gone!

NEW COUNTY LAUNDRY OFFICIALLY INSPECTED

Hartsfield, Others Pledge Efforts for Betterment of City and Fulton.

Co-operative work for the betterment of Atlanta and Fulton county was pledged yesterday by William B. Hartsfield, Atlanta's mayor-elect, the new legislative delegation and the Fulton County Commission at a luncheon celebrating the completion of the new central county laundry at Fulton tower.

Pointing out that in the past progress in the county has met with many difficulties, Dr. Charles R. Adams, chairman of the commission, asserted "Fulton county has a happy time to anticipate, since the next mayor and the next governor have expressed particular friendship for the county and its government."

Mayor-elect Hartsfield declared he will work with the commission and the legislature with a view to encouraging cordial relationship between the city and county and the remainder of the state. Cleaning up the police department will do much to increase cordial feeling for the city from residents of the state, he said.

Helen Douglas Mankin, representative-elect, pledged co-operation in introducing new legislation. Commissioners George F. Longino, J. A. Ragdale and Ed Almand, Municipal Judge Luther Z. Rosser, City Councilmen Howard McCutcheon and J. Frank Beck and W. T. Turner, chief engineer at the tower, who prepared the luncheon for the assembly, were among others who spoke.

The luncheon was held in connection with "open house" at the jail. The public was invited to inspect the jail and the new laundry. With WPA aid, the country has just purchased and installed a $15,000 laundry plant, with modern machinery, to launder the clothes from all county departments. Laundry is gathered from the jail, the prison camps and other county institutions and laundered in the basement of the tower. Electric washers, dryers and pressers are part of the new equipment.

Speakers congratulated the county officials for acquiring the laundry and for the excellent manner in which the jail and prison camps are maintained.

MRS. J. F. BUTLER, 82, PASSES AT RESIDENCE

Mrs. J. F. Butler, 82, mother of Captain G. T. Butler, veteran member of the Atlanta police department, died yesterday morning at her residence in Dallas, Ga.

Mrs. Butler had been ill for a few days. She was prominent in church and civic affairs, and well known in the community.

Besides Captain Butler, who has been a member of the Atlanta police department since November 13, 1905, surviving are five other sons, Albert, J. H., Lonnie, R. E. and Ben Butler, and four daughters, Miss Georgia Ann Butler, Mrs. Sallie Crowley, Mrs. R. C. Clark and Mrs. Emma Wicks.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock this morning at the Mount Olivet Baptist church, near the DuPont, with burial in the churchyard.

STRICT ENFORCEMENT OF BEER LAW ORDERED

Strict enforcement of ordinances recently passed by city council relative to sale of beer and wine in Atlanta was ordered yesterday by Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant.

Chief Sturdivant commanded members of the police department to see that no beer and wine is sold after midnight, and that no minors be employed in establishments selling beer and wine.

He also warned motorists cases will be made against drivers who failed to give the right-of-way to blind persons carrying white and red canes, recently distributed as an aid to the blind in crossing city streets.

HITLER CONFERS CROSS UPON FELLOW DICTATOR

BRAZIL EXTENDS F. D. R. INVITATION FOR VISIT

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 11.—(AP) President Getulio Vargas, of Brazil, it was reliably reported tonight, has accepted the invitation of the Brazilian government to visit Brazil if he goes to the inter-American peace conference, opening at Buenos Aires December 1.

Foreign Minister Jose Carlos Macedo Soares said if the President came here he probably would arrive November 27.

(President Roosevelt has indicated he is considering making the trip to Buenos Aires for the conference which he proposed.)

REFRESHMENT STAND AT AIRPORT IS BURNED

Fire of undetermined origin early yesterday morning destroyed a one-story refreshment stand at the entrance to the municipal airport. The Hapeville fire department quickly extinguished the flames.

Damage was unestimated. The stand was across from the army hangar, which was not threatened, however. Name of the owner of the stand was not learned.

Willingness of Victim Kayoes Holdup Suspect

The rapidity with which a would-be bandit victim raised his hands in answer to a command to "stick 'em up" resulted in a negro thug being "knocked out by a blow on the jaw and landing in jail, it was revealed yesterday.

According to police reports, the negro, who gave his name as Paul Barrow, was taken into custody early yesterday morning at Whiteford avenue and McLenon street, where he was found unconscious, with Bill Sherman, of 289 Whiteford avenue, N. E., standing over him.

Sherman told police the negro was walking home when the negro stepped from behind a tree and ordered him to raise his hands. Sherman complied, with such speed that his fist caught on the negro's chin, felling him for a very long count.

Barrow was booked on a charge of attempted robbery.

DR. JAMES M'LESTER WILL SPEAK AT EMORY

Former American Medical Society Head Named for Centennial Feature.

Dr. James Somerville Mc Lester, immediate past president of the American Medical Society, has been selected to make an address at a morning conference on medicine during the Emory University centennial celebration, President Harvey W. Cox announced yesterday.

Dr. Mc Lester, widely known for his research in the field of dietetics and internal medicine, will speak December 8. He is a member of the faculty of the University of Alabama and is a practicing physician in Birmingham.

Members of the Georgia Medical Society will be invited to hear him.

Dr. Walter B. Cannon, professor of physiology at Harvard medical school, will speak the same evening.

Dr. Mc Lester, a native of Tuscaloosa, Ala., studied in several foreign universities. He is widely known for his articles in medical journals on nutrition.

Marion Smith, Atlanta attorney, past president of the Georgia Bar Association, will speak at Emory December 9, discussing the movement to improve legal administration in Georgia.

He is widely known through his work as a member of President Roosevelt's committee for the textile industry to investigate labor conditions during the textile strike in 1934.

The Emory centennial celebration will be held from December 4 to 13, inclusive.

BROADER DEVELOPMENT OF TVA IS CONSIDERED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Revision of the Tennessee valley act to make power development "incident" to broader economic development of the Tennessee region was discussed with President Roosevelt today by Arthur E. Morgan, TVA chairman.

Asserting the power phase had "more or less obscured" other purposes of the law, Dr. Morgan indicated the President received the suggestions favorably and that clarifying amendments as well as some new provisions would be sought in the next congress.

He said he also had discussed with the chief executive plans for a national power policy which would guard against the federal government competing with itself at various projects and provide a central agency to pass on all major contracts for power.

Dr. Morgan said when TVA was first considered by the President, now known as the "incident" in a general program for regional planning that embraced navigation improvement, flood control, soil erosion prevention, fertilizer development, and co-operation with local agencies in developing the valley's resources.

FRENCH SERUM HELPS GIRL'S DISEASE FIGHT

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Pretty Miss Jaycee Easley, 26-year-old victim of deadly streptococcus viridans, staked her hope of recovery tonight upon a special type of French serum described by physicians as "about her only chance."

An airliner rushed the medicine here from Montreal yesterday. The brunette artist reacted favorably to initial injections with attending reporting some improvement in less than 12 hours.

Little Rock physicians said it was the first time the French serum had been used in the United States. One of three types developed by a Parisian scientist, it is termed a "last resort" against various types of serious infection.

BRAZIL EXTENDS F. D. R. INVITATION FOR VISIT

RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 11.—(AP) President Getulio Vargas, of Brazil, it was reliably reported tonight, has accepted the invitation of the Brazilian government to visit Brazil if he goes to the inter-American peace conference, opening at Buenos Aires December 1.

Foreign Minister Jose Carlos Macedo Soares said if the President came here he probably would arrive November 27.

(President Roosevelt has indicated he is considering making the trip to Buenos Aires for the conference which he proposed.)

REFRESHMENT STAND AT AIRPORT IS BURNED

Fire of undetermined origin early yesterday morning destroyed a one-story refreshment stand at the entrance to the municipal airport. The Hapeville fire department quickly extinguished the flames.

Damage was unestimated. The stand was across from the army hangar, which was not threatened, however. Name of the owner of the stand was not learned.

Willingness of Victim Kayoes Holdup Suspect

The rapidity with which a would-be bandit victim raised his hands in answer to a command to "stick 'em up" resulted in a negro thug being "knocked out by a blow on the jaw and landing in jail, it was revealed yesterday.

According to police reports, the negro, who gave his name as Paul Barrow, was taken into custody early yesterday morning at Whiteford avenue and McLenon street, where he was found unconscious, with Bill Sherman, of 289 Whiteford avenue, N. E., standing over him.

Sherman told police the negro was walking home when the negro stepped from behind a tree and ordered him to raise his hands. Sherman complied, with such speed that his fist caught on the negro's chin, felling him for a very long count.

Barrow was booked on a charge of attempted robbery.

TUBERCULOSIS GROUP HEADED BY ATHENIAN

Dr. H. M. Heckman Elected President of Association at Convention Here.

Dr. H. M. Heckman, of Athens, was elected president of the Georgia Tuberculosis Association for 1937 yesterday at its annual convention here.

The conference of representatives of more than 70 local units of the association was featured by addresses by Dr. H. C. Schenck, of the State Board of Health; Dr. Heckman and Dr. W. A. Doppler, of the staff of the National Tuberculosis Association. Motion pictures of modern methods in combating the disease were shown.

Other officers elected were Dr. J. D. Applewhite, of Macon, first vice president; the Rev. Robert White, of Thomaston, second vice president; Mrs. Virginia Gibbs Morris, of Marietta, secretary; T. K. Glenn, of Atlanta, treasurer; Mrs. F. G. Hodgson, of Atlanta; Professor J. E. Purks, of Cedartown. Dr. John Elliott, of Savannah and Dr. C. C. Aven, of Atlanta, members of the executive board.

Dr. Schenck was selected to represent the association on the board of the national association, and Dr. James P. Faulkner was re-elected executive secretary of the state organization.

Reports on the work done by the association during the past year were highly commendatory, it was said. Activities of the organization were largely paid for by the sale of annual tuberculosis Christmas seals.

The association was responsible for the examination of 38,128 individuals during the past year, and of this number 9,050 were found to be tubercular. Treatment and care was provided for them and 324 were sent to a sanatorium. Nurses made 50,115 visits in the care of patients, and 83,455 pieces of literature designed to educate the public in the fight against tuberculosis were distributed throughout the state.

SENTENCES UPHELD BY SUPREME COURT

Spikes Must Die for Ware Killing; Smith's Life Term To Stand.

The state supreme court yesterday upheld the conviction and sentence of death imposed on Wilson Spikes, of Ware county, for the murder of Paul Hargraves near Waycross last year.

In another decision, the high court upheld a life sentence imposed on C. J. Smith for his part in the Madox slaying of Nicholas Neely in Atlanta.

Spikes and Mrs. Hargraves were indicted for the murder of the woman's husband, the state contending they sought to dispose of the husband in order that they might pursue a love affair. The woman has not yet been tried.

Smith was the second man to be given a life term in the Neely slaying, a similar sentence for Paul Ewing having been previously upheld.
